Attorney General Charges Sheriff Reprisal

Grand Jurors Asked To Eye Malfeasance

ORINDA SUN

Vol. XVII, No. 31 | Friday, Oct. 9, 1959 | CL 4-4343 | Lafayette-Orinda | Ten Cents

'Immediate' Action Asked In Dismissal

Sheriff Walter F. Young Wednesday became the target of Attorney General Stanley Mosk after a one hour session with Mrs. Ruth Rathke and her attorney Robert Condon.

Mosk attacked Young in a blistering statement for the "reprisal firing" of Mrs. Rathke after she testified to the Contra Costa Grand Jury during the jury's recent investigation into reports of vice and gambling in the county.

MRS. RATHKE was a key witness during the hearings. Mrs. Rathke was fired Monday by Young on charges of insubordination and other counts.

"There is no question in my mind that the dismissal was a direct reprisal for Mrs. Rathke's testimony before the grand jury," Mosk exclaimed.

"If this is what Young is doing to get rid of vice and corruption in his county, he's certainly not fulfilling his obligations to the public," he continued.

The attorney general pointed out that Young and the grand jury had given assurances that there would be no reprisals tolerated against any person who testified before the grand jury.

MOSK SAID he is asking the grand jury to reconvene as soon as possible to consider action in the sheriff's dismissal of Mrs. Rathke.

He added that the grand jury could, if it wished, remove Young from office.

Mosk, in a statement to The Sun, said the grand jury should consider the firing of Mrs. Rathke "as an affront to the authority of the grand jury."

Mosk said he considers her firing a reprisal. "There's no question about it," Mosk said. "The timing itself indicates it. There were threats made against her before she testified that she would be removed if she testified.

"If the grand jury can't protect citizens who reveal corruption they are not going to get citizens, certainly not public employees, to testify before them," he said.

MOSK SAID he hopes to have the jury meet as soon as possible, and indicated the meeting might be within several days.

He said he expected the jury to call in Young and question him concerning the firing. He said the jury's action would depend upon whether Young's explanation was satisfactory, "And I don't see how it can be."

Mrs. Rathke was silent as she emerged from the conference. Condon told reporters, "We are satisfied with the results of this conversation. We explored several possibilities. We hope we'll get some results."

In its recent action, the grand jury censured Young and ordered him to clean up the county and report back no later than March.

YOUNG SUBSEQUENTLY demoted Mrs. Rathke from chief civil division to radio dispatcher and then followed the action by dismissing her Monday while she was on sick leave at her Alamo home.

An action is pending before Contra Costa Superior Judge Wakefield Taylor for Young to show cause why he had demoted Mrs. Rathke.

Attorney Condon said he would now amend the complaint to include the dismissal.

"We will give Mrs. Rathke all the help we can from this office," Mosk said.

Others attending the meeting were Mosk's top criminal aide, Assistant Attorney General Charles A. O'Brien and Thomas Martin, president of the Contra Costa County Employes Union.

Young's Attorney Answers Charges Of Stanley Mosk

George Gordon, attorney for Sheriff Walter F. Young termed Attorney General Stanley Mosk's actions "regrettable" and "procedures condemned by both the legal profession and the judiciary."

In a statement to The Sun Gordon said:

"It is regrettable that Mosk has seen fit to handle the affairs of the attorney general's office through press releases.

"THIS PROCEDURE is condemned by both the legal profession and the judiciary. If Mosk had taken the time to investigate the Rathke matter, it would have become obvious to him that the action of Sheriff Young was not one of reprisal, but an action that was based on object violation of duty on the part of Mrs. Rathke.

"Mosk should consult both sides of a controversy before he arrives at decision. Tenents of the legal profession and the judiciary denounce prejudgement," Gordon concluded.

This was the second statment made for Sheriff Young this week by Gordon.

THE FIRST statement was made following the filing of a writ of mandate by Mrs. Rathke charging the sheriff with "extortion" and "malfeasance."

Gordon in this case said: "Mrs. Rathke's petition reveals that the recent grand jury investigations were initiated through her imaginative mind, resulting in tremendous cost to the taxpayers."

Of the charges, he added, "They are the product of a law student's frustrations." He said, "It appears that Mrs. Rathke would like to remain in a position which would keep the county in a continual upheaval. Perhaps this would be a source of gratification to her," Gordon added.

Mrs. Rathke had been confidential secretary to former Sheriff Harry A. Brown. Then, when Young was elected, he removed her from this position in January.

IN AUGUST, during the height of the grand jury investigation into vice and gambling in the county, Mrs. Rathke was relieved of routing telephone calls and office correspondence. At that time, however, she remained in charge of the Sheriff's Civil Division.

September 22 Young reassigned Mrs. Rathke to the communications division as a clerk-dispatcher although she retained her salary of $710 per month, more than twice the salary of her fellow communications workers.

Monday, Young fired Mrs Rathke on six counts.

They are:

"(1) insubordination; (2) conduct unbecoming an employe in the public service; (3) wilful violation of the provisions of civil service law; (4) neglect of duty; (5) absence without leave; (6) violation of a lawful and reasonable regulation and/or order made and given by a superior officer."

Rapid Series Of Actions In Vice Probe

The Contra Costa County Grand Jury will meet in special session to consider the firing of Ruth Rathke, ex-chief of the civil division of the Contra Costa Sheriff's office.

Stanley Mosk, attorney general, informed The Sun late yesterday that District Attorney John A. Nejedly will set a date for a special session of the grand jury within the next few days.

Mosk commented there would be representatives from his office to make the presentation to the grand jury. Jury Foreman John B. Dunlap is in New York and will not return to Contra Costa County until Monday.

Nejedly is in Sacramento participating in a governor's safety conference and is expected back at his office on Monday also.

THE COURT hearing on Mrs. Rathke' writ of mandate will be the next step in the five month upheaval of law enforcement in Contra Costa County.

The turmoil began when Mrs. Rathke went to the Attorney General with charges of vice and gambling in the county. Then District Attorney John A. Nejedly reported that Union Organizer Charles F. Cooper had offered him a $150,000 bribe to let the county run wide open.

This led to 30 hours of testimony heard by the county grand jury which resulted in the indictment of Cooper and a sharp reprimand to the sheriff.

THE JURY heard disclosures concerning a gambling casino in Clayton Valley, a house of prostitution and a gambling and girlie show promoted by Young's campaign manager, Raymond Van Tassell of Alamo.

On August 26, in a report highly critical of Young, the jury called for a reform of the sheriff's office to tighten vice law enforcement.

Young has laid all this to Mrs. Rathke.

"I have never seen nor heard of a more flagrant case of disloyalty and insubordniation," he said.

MRS. RATHKE admitted, in a suit she filed against Young to get her old job back, that she went to the State Attorney General's office last spring with information concerning gambling and vice conditions.

"Although it had been rumored for quite some time that Mrs Rathke instigated the investigation," Young said "this fact was not known until she filed her petition in which she boasts of this fact.

"Attempts to obtain verification of her activities prior to this time were met with resistance from all sources," Young said. "It is fortunate indeed at this time that the admission has been made by Mrs. Rathke.

"HER ACCUSATION culminated a long series of activities which were designed to break down the morale of the personnel in the sheriff's office," Young stated.

Mrs. Rathke's petition says that when Sheriff Young learned she had talked wtih someone in the attorney general's office he "publicly threatened her with reprisals including the demotion or dismissal from her civil service position."

Her "new assignment" to communications clerk, she charges, "is the reprisal."

SHERIFF YOUNG said he had no comment on Mrs. Rathke's charges. In his letter placing Mrs. Rathke in her new job, he said "this assignment is being made due to the extreme need for additional personnel to handle the increased work load."

Van Tassel, referring to Mrs. Rathke's charge, said "there was no extortion" involved in raising money to pay off the deficit in Young's campaign.

He added: "No group of people was singled out and solicited. Solicitations were made in an entirely proper manner among business and professional people of all types.

"MRS. RATHKE'S opinion that there were strings attached to these contributions is directly contrary to fact.

"No pledges of any kind were made or implied as a part of these solicitations by the sheriff or myself or any member of his campaign committee or the league," he concluded.

Volunteer Group Tells Need for Working Space

Members of Dollies Inc., the local volunteer group which annually refurbishes and dresses Christmas dolls for needy children, are seeking a location for their headquarters.

The group, now in its fifth year, desires donated space in the downtown Lafayette area. The space, according to Mrs. Sam Watkins, founder and chairman of the group, should be about 12 by 14 feet in size, and could be a house trailer, empty building, playroom or Sunday school room.

Mrs. Watkins pointed out that the group will require water facilities for washing the dolls and storage space. The room should be available at least three times a week permanently, or at least until Christmas.

Dollies Inc. distributes the dolls to needy children through the Christmas Bureau, American Friends, Mt. Diablo Therapy Center and other groups.

Persons having space available for use of the group are asked to call Mrs. John Lavallee, AT 3-3816; Mrs. J. S. Holliday, AT 3-6078; or Mrs. Watkins, AT 4-7217.

4 Men Arrested For Shooting Dice in Tavern

The case of four men accused of shooting dice in a Pleasant Hill tavern will be heard today in Concord Municipal Court by Judge Louis McKannay.

The four were arrested by sheriff's vice officers October 1 at the Knotty Pine, 3417 North Main Street. Booked for violating the county's anti-gambling ordinance by Deputies Arthur Hagust and James Steffenson were the bar owner and three customers.

They are James A. Farrant, 45, operator of the bar, 511 Masefield Drive; Wallace Paul Jr., 38, carpenter, 17 David Court, Walnut Creek; Elbert P. Barbee, 33, bookbinder, 3207 North Main; Harry W. Adams, 44, milk truck driver, 1204 RaeAnne Drive, Concord.

The deputies said they observed the dice game in progress and seized four dice cups and $35 in play.

The four men were taken to the county jail in Martinez. A preliminary hearing was postponed

Inland School Plans are Expanded

Trigger is High Bid on Wagner Ranch School

The Orinda Union School District board of trustees has abandoned plans to construct the Wagner Ranch School and the multi-purpose room at the Del Rey School — for the time being at least.

And for economy and practical reasons, the square footage credit from those projects will be applied to the Inland Valley School, allowing construction of facilities for seventh and eighth grades, according to J. L. Sheaff, district superintendent.

The plans for Inland Valley School have been approved by the Department of Architecture, and will require 35,400 square feet of space.

THE CHANGE of plans was triggered by the State Department of Finance rejection of the base bid for Wagner Ranch School construction, which was higher than the estimate.

Revision of the plans will delay rebidding for several weeks Sheaff said.

The transfer of the money and the square footage to Inland School will mean there will be no delay, since the plans are approved, and there would be more priority points for one site than two.

Sheaff said, "We will have a better chance of obtaining a satisfactory bid at Inland Valley for the entire construction than we would have of getting a low enough bid on two smaller projects.

"The project at Inland Valley would actually benefit more children, and we will have completed the facilities for two seventh and eighth grade schools.

"Instead of starting only the seventh grade at Inland Valley in 1960, we could start both the seventh and eighth grades," he said.

"By taking the eighth grade students who live on the Moraga side out of Pine Grove and putting them at Inland Valley, we would have enough classrooms at Pine Grove to house the sixth grade students from Sleepy Hollow and Orinda.

"BY TAKING the sixth graders out of both Sleepy Hollow and Orinda, we would eliminate the necessity of any further double sessions at either of these schools," Sheaff added.

Originally, enrollment figures and house count entitled Inland School to only 24,500 square feet of additional space, with the other projects still moving ahead.

It was earlier suggested to the board that the planned construction of the multi-purpose room at Del Ray School be dropped temporarily to allow construction of the multi-purpose room at Inland Valley School.

Sheaff said, "Since there are no other facilities to be built at Del Rey in this application, there will be no priority given for the construction of this room.

"IF WE BUILD the multi-purpose room at Inland Valley, it will provide equal facilities for both of our intermediate schools.

"Since the multi-purpose room at Inland Valley will require 10,000 square feet, it may be some time before we ever again have the opportunity of building this facility on this site.

"It is much easier to obtain 5,500 square feet (requirement for the Del Rey multi-purpose room).

"It should be remembered that this multi-purpose room was designed for both the K-6 school and the seventh and eighth grade school at Inland Valley.

"We were required to do this, although we did request that we build separate multi-purpose rooms for each one.

"In our opinion, more children will benefit from having the multipurpose room at Inland Valley than at Del Rey, since both the Del Rey children and Inland Valley children will be attending the intermediate school upon the completion of the sixth grade.

Vice Conditions 'Exaggerated,' Nejedly States

Vice conditions in Contra Costa County "have been to some extent exaggerated," District Attorney John Nejedly told the Orinda Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Nejedly named vice conditions as one of the major problems of the district attorney's office.

IN SPEAKING OF VICE, he said tolerance leads to acceptance, acceptance leads to abuse and this leads to organized crime, which harms the community."

The district attorney explained that when a community has gambling visible from the main street and a "girlie" show with law enforcement personnel around, "we have an open invitation to gambling."

He stated, "We will take the laws as we find them and enforce them without equivocation."

OTHER PROBLEMS of the district attorney's office, he said, are the potential of the press, the welfare situation, drunken drivers and conditions in the North Richmond area.

The common denominator for all of these problems is respect and the willingness of the community to respect the laws and abide by the rules, Nejedly reported.

"We must respect all the laws whether we like them or not, and out of this respect comes the proper organization of government, respect from our children and better law enforcement.

CHAMBER MEMBERS ALSO voted to hold regular luncheon meetings only once a month, the first Tuesday, instead of twice a month. There will be a program at each meeting.

At their next meeting, chamber members will discuss the proposed relocation of the postal box from Orinda Way and Avenida de Orinda to a site closer to Camino Pablo.

Young Retaining Fees He Promised To Give County

Sheriff Walter F. Young is not returning fees for the delivery of civil papers and mileage paid to him for the delivery of these papers to the county treasury as he promised to do.

According to records of the county auditor's office, Sheriff Young is keeping approximately $300 per month in civil fees and $700 a month in mileage.

THESE FEES are the property of the sheriff by law and the amounts to be paid for delivery of civil papers and mileage expenses are set by the state legislature, but all other county officials who may retain fees return them to the county of their own volition.

Sheriff Young promised before and after the election in public that he would return the fees to the county treasurer.

The sheriff is paid $12,600 per year by the county. Fees, based on the following figures, amount to an additional $10,000 a year, making the sheriff's position the highest paid in the county.

The sheriff took in $292.21 in January in civil fees while he collected $706.30 in mileage. In February, it was $287.76, fees, $697.90 mileage; March, $398.39 fees, $864.40 mileage; April, $347.28 fees, $796.55 mileage; May, $277.80 fees, $610.10 mileage; June, $291.93 fees, $647.85 mileage; July, $330.74 fees, $815.55 mileage.

IN TOTALS, this amounts to $2220.11 for civil fees and $5138.65 for mileage. The grand total for the seven-month period is $7,358.76.

The matter of sheriff's fees have been a matter of argument for some years.

An opinion on the legality of the sheriff retaining fees was handed down several years ago by then District Attorney Francis Collins.

Collins opined under county ordinance 1045 (now ordinance 1285, the county salary schedule) and several sections of the government code that the sheriff may retain fees.

J. P. McBrien informed The Sun that "the ordinance is vague and it really leaves a great deal open to interpretation."

Young returns certain fees to the county, however.

OVER THE seven month period, Young returned $2400 to the county in fees paid by the state to deliver prisoners to state institutions and for mileage paid for this transportation.

Actually, it would have cost the sheriff money to retain these fees, since the state pays less for the transportation than the county charges for the use of its cars.

Young owns the two cars which are used to deliver all civil papers in the county. Therefore he retains all mileage paid for the delivery of these papers.

The money is paid directly to the sheriff by attorneys, and other persons who wish eviction notices, complaints and other legal documents served.

THE SHERIFF at the end of each month turns in a sworn statement of monies collected to the county, but he keeps this money in his own personal account.

The personnel who serve the papers are paid their wages by the county. There are five persons in the civil division, two grade II deputies who are paid approximately $500 a month each. A chief, (the position held by Mrs. Ruth Rathke until she was demoted to radio operator and then fired. See other stories) at $710 a month and two office clerks at approximately $300 per month each.

The sheriff, out of the monies collected, must pay for the upkeep of his cars and the operation of these cars.

McBRIEN POINTED out he is against the fee system in government.

Should the board of supervisors endorse the proposal to abolish the system in this county, the county could go to the state legislature in 1961 and seek the legal means by which to accomplish it, he said.

Fine Imposed

Lincoln Beck of 909 Reliez Station Road, Lafayette, was convicted on three counts of contempt of court, as a result of picket line incidents at the struck Pabco plant in Emeryville.

He was sentenced to one day in the Alameda County jail, while other members of Eastbay Machinists Union Local 1304 were fined. The union itself was fined $1000 by Superior Judge Folger Emerson.

Condon Challenges Young Right to Pocket Fee Money

Former Congressman Robert L. Condon of Martinez today challenged the right of Sheriff Walter F. Young to retain civil fees and mileage monies which are paid to the sheriff for serving civil papers for litigants.

In addition, Condon branded as "ridiculous" Sheriff Walter F. Young's statement, issued Monday in connection with the firing of Ruth Rathke, former deputy in charge of the civil division of the sheriff's office.

YOUNG HAD CHARGED Mrs. Rathke with disloyalty and insubordination and stated that he had not known she informed the attorney general's office of irregularities in his office until her petition to get her old job back was filed in the superior court last week.

"This," Condon said, "is absurd. Sheriff Young knew before Mrs. Rathke testified to the grand jury two months ago that she had spoken to agents of the attorney general's office about the sheriff's office.

"At that time, Undersheriff Harry Ramsay," the sheriff's brother-in-law, publicly stated that Mrs. Rathke was going to be discouraged from going to the attorney general," Condon added.

"Young apparently felt that first he should demote Mrs. Rathke and strip her of all authority. The decision to fire her was made after Mrs. Rathke refused to accept the demotion and sought, through legal means, to have her original job restored," the attorney stated.

"MRS. RATHKE IS A good and conscientious employee and the sheriff's personal venom against an employee is insensible," Condon continued.

Condon also disclosed he had written a letter to John Nejedly, district attorney, calling attention to the fact that Young was putting in his own pocket the fees plus mileage he received from attorneys for services of legal papers through his department.

In his letter to the district attorney, Condon pointed out that Young has a private income through the use of county personnel in serving papers of more than $1000 per month in addition to his pay of $12,600 a year as sheriff.

Condon, in his letter, told Nejedly that Young is one of the few, if not the only, sheriff in the State of California who profits from the civil process division of the sheriff's department.

"THESE FEES, PLUS his salary, mean that Young has a gross income greater than that of the sheriff of Los Angeles County or any other metropolitan county and certainly more than that of any other elected official of Contra Costa County," the attorney charged.

Condon challenged Young's right to pocket this money and demanded that Nejedly take action to see that these fees are paid into the county treasurer's office.

A full text of Condon's letter follows:

"It has come to my attention that Sheriff Young is receiving and personally appropriating funds paid to his office by litigants who use the sheriff's office to serve papers and legal documents in civil proceedings.

"THE SHERIFF, AS I understand it, is not only receiving these fees, but is also charging and pocketing mileage at the rate of 35 cents per mile one way for each such service attempted.

"It is my understanding that the sheriff's gross income for fees and mileage paid by private litigants in connection with civil process is in excess of $1000 per month.

"I have been informed that Sheriff Young is one of the few if not the only sheriff in the State of California who is thus enriched for performing a duty commanded by law. He is certainly the only sheriff in a metropolitan area who has such side money. The service of these papers and the clerical processing, of course, are done by county employees at the taxpayers' expense.

"The salaries of these employees alone amount to more than $2000 a month, and I cannot in good conscience see how the taxpayers should be expected to pay this much per month in order to give the sheriff a second income in addition to $12,600 per year salary.

"I FURTHERMORE BELIEVE that the sheriff's actions are contrary to law and that your office should instigate the appropriate legal action to force him to pay into the county treasury the fees he has thus received since assuming office.

"In this connection, I call your attention to Section 24350 of the Government Code, which provides that 'Each salaried officer of a county or judicial district shall charge and collect for the use of his county and pay into the county treasury, on or before the fifth day of each month, the fees allowed by law in all cases except those, or a percentage of them, allowed him and those which are charged against the county.'

"I also call your attention to County Ordinance 1285 and 1334 which set forth the sheriff's salary. These ordinances specifically provide that constables may retain civil process fees and do not make such a provision for the sheriff.

Moraga Area Precise Zoning Approved Over Objections

By LARRY GLAZIER

The County Planning Commission, by a vote of six to one Tuesday night, approved a precise zoning plan for the 8700-acre Moraga area over the protests of Moraga residents and the Orinda Association.

As approved by the commission, the plan follows the zoning plan proposed by the county planning staff, except that it reduces the controlled manufacturing zoning by approximately one-third.

THE BURTON shopping center, included in the general plan for Moraga adopted by the commission 17 months ago but omitted from zoning proposal, is also omitted from the plan which was approved.

Action was taken by the commission in the presence of about 150 Moraga area residents and other interested persons who traveled to Martinez for the second public hearing on the proposal.

Following slightly more than an hour of arguments presented by Rex A. Collings Jr. of Moraga, who said he was representing 92 per cent of the Moraga residents, and Bestor Robinson, attorney for the Utah Construction Company, the largest landholder in the area, J. R. Connors, commission chairman, was prepared to close the hearing and delay action on the matter.

BUT SOME of the commissioners, including R. S. Elliott, who voted against the proposed zoning, felt that action should be taken immediately, and Commissioner Boone Robinson of Orinda spoke up:

"It is the responsibility of the commission to state to the people the reasons for its actions. We should take action when the people are here so they'll know why we acted as we did."

He explained that in recent years he has "been on both sides of this desk concerning the Moraga issue," and that he fought for some sort of plan in the area so that persons moving to Moraga would have knowledge of the county's zoning intentions.

COMMISSIONER ROBINSON, named to his post about two years ago, said, "There is a need somewhere in this area for employment opportunities and planned shopping areas."

It was Robinson's motion which established the zoning for the area and eliminated about 90 acres, referred to as a "finger," of controlled manufacturing originally included in the plan.

The altered area, which temporarily becomes agriculturally zoned, is a strip of land about 300 feet south of Camino Pablo extending southeast from Canyon Road, which is adjacent to a medium density residential neighborhood in the Orchard Dell area.

COMMISSIONERS ZONED nearly 200 acres for controlled manufacturing, 85 acres for retail business, 20 acres for general commercial firms, 110 acres for multiple residences, 68 acres for administrative offices, 3720 acres for single-family residential and 4590 acres for agriculture.

Through Collings, a University of California law professor, Moragans previously had stated, "We are just little people pleading for our rural Moraga and we don't want any controlled manufacturing, administrative offices or general commercial."

Collings received a standing ovation from the entire audience when he completed his presentation.

HE AND FREDERIC Sawyer, a San Francisco attorney and a Moraga resident, presented petitions which they said were signed by 92 per cent of the 508 Moragans contacted and by 163 residents of the Ivy Drive area of Orinda, opposing adoption of the general plan or the precise zoning.

The petitions requested only low density residential zoning and "the minimum of planned shopping areas necessary to take care of Moraga's own needs."

Another petition, signed by the Rheem Merchants' Association, also was presented by Sawyer.

COLLINGS CHARGED that "all of us have a right to be heard regardless of what went before."

He said the general plan is not binding on the commission because it has not been adopted by the board of supervisors and that a general plan, according to the State Government Code, is meaningless in the absence of legislative action.

"The planning commission has no legislative powers," Collings maintained. He added that "I have considerable doubts that this procedure (employed by the commission relative to Moraga) is legal."

BECAUSE, COLLINGS continued, "We are 500 now in Moraga, we should try to legislate in the public interest as it is tonight."

He said the zoning proposal is one which will raise the speculative value of the community and will not be an asset to the community.

Bestor Robinson reiterated Utah's proposal to "plan an ideal balanced community of 50,000 population."

HE SAID Collings' proposal is "completely opposite to the general plan and 180 degrees off from the precise zoning plan. The residents want to tear up the general plan for a balanced community and replace it with a bedroom community."

As a matter of fact, Robinson stated, even the 289 acres originally planned for controlled manufacturing by the planning staff is not going to be enough for the area.

The Rheem area was not included in the zoning proposal

Incorporation Issues Are Argued at Meeting

Proponents and opponents of Lafayette incorporation met face-to-face for the first time Monday night.

The occasion was the first public meeting sponsored by the Lafayette Taxpayers' Anti-Incorporation League, attended by about 300 persons in the Acalanes High School gymnasium.

SLIGHTLY MORE than half the persons in attendance were students of Acalanes, who received credits in their senior problems classes.

The proponents and opponents of the incorporation will have two more opportunities to meet before the election October 27. They will meet jointly with high school students Monday night, and they will meet at a candidates' night-public forum at the high school gymnasium October 21.

Leonard Murphy, chairman of the league who acted as master of ceremonies at the meeting, said, "I have found not one solid reason for incorporation. There seems to be something wrong in establishing a city to retain the country atmosphere."

ONLY SPEAKER for the pro-incorporation side was William Zion, chairman of the incorporation committee, who said "There is going to be development in Lafayette whether we incorporate or not, and incorporation would provide improved planning, greatly improved police protection, slightly improved road development and a small reserve.

He explained the $640,000 proposed budget offered by the incorporation committee would provide all these things without increasing local taxes.

John Keller said the proponents' estimates of state subventions were not right and quoted from a letter from the State Board of Equalization, which was released last week.

THE LETTER REDUCED the amount of estimated state subventions by $46,859 from the figures previously estimated by the proponents.

Keller claimed that no population change which would have any bearing on the state revenues resulted from the boundary alterations made by the County Board of Supervisors.

He added that the sale of foreign cars will hurt the domestic auto market, and this, in turn, will reduce in lieu, gasoline and sales taxes which would be returned to the city.

ISSUE WAS TAKEN with the proponents' police proposal by Fred Wagner, a candidate for town council, who said $180,000 is a more realistic figure for the police budget than the one announced by the incorporation committee.

He explained this is three times the pro-group's estimate because, on the basis of one policeman per 1000 population listed as the average of comparable cities in the state, 21 policemen, or three times the seven-man force which has been proposed, is necessary.

Ned Robinson, a local resident and a practicing attorney, explained what he called the Lafayette budget for 1958-59, if it had been incorporated, and he also touched on the fire district issue (see additional stories).

ROBINSON LISTED $939,000 in expenses, which included: Police, $200,000; planning and zoning, $15,000; administration, $90,000; fire, $260,000; roads, $250,000; and reserves, $124,000.

The speaker pointed out that income, other than taxes, would amount to $321,000, thereby necessitating a $1.52 tax rate per $100 assessed valuation, or the cutting down of services.

"Is it worth it for planning and zoning in an area which is largely planned and zoned?" he asked.

Death of Moraga Land Co. Heir Re-Investigated

The violent death of Myford (Mike) Irvine, son of the president of the Moraga Land Company, is being re-investigated as the instigation of relatives.

Irvine died of a pistol bullet in his brain and two shotgun blasts in the stomach in his 19th century mansion in Tustin which is near his 90,000 acre ranch southeast of Los Angeles, January 11.

The body will be exhumed by the district attorney's office in an attempt to explain questions raised by Irvine's niece, Mrs. Joan Irvine, who is also a daughter of Federal Judge Thurman Clarke.

She wants to know how a man can shoot himself in the brain and then fire two shot gun blasts into his stomach, or else fire the devastating blasts and later shoot himself in the head.

Mrs. Clarke, who before her marriage to the judge, was widow of Irvine's brother, James, has said she believes he was murdered.

The dead man's father, James Irvine, died of a heart attack in 1949, leaving a $13 million estate.

In 1953, Utah Construction Company bought 5000 acres of land in Moraga from the Moraga Lane Company for $4 millions, and made plans for development.

Before his death, Irvine was trying to raise $5,600,000, relatives say. No reason has been given, and investigators are looking into this, but at the same time are saying no relatives stood to benefit financially from his death.

The son's fortune has been estimated at $100 millions.

Greek Boy 'Adopted' by Orinda Folk

Mr. and Mrs. David H. Jones, 15 Crest View Drive, Orinda, have financially "adopted" Dimitrios Mylonas, a 10-year-old Greek boy, through Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., New York City.

They have promised to contribute $15 a month toward the child's support for at least one year.

Foster Parents' Plan, which has rehabilitated more than 76,000 children on a personal basis since its founding in 1937, is now helping more than 14,000 youngsters in Greece, Italy, South Korea, France, Belgium, Viet Nam and in the DP camps of West Germany.

The boy's family lives in a state-owned house made of mud and stone. They sleep on two plank beds and have a few other battered broken pieces of furniture.

There is electricity but no water—water is brought from a public well. They cook over a kerosene burner. In spite of the conditions, the mother keeps the home very tidy.

Dimitrios is a clever child—obedient and polite. He has just recovered from an attack of typhoid but is much better now. He is in the third grade—a little behind in school because of his operation.

However, he is a fine student. He wants to be a carpenter when he grows up.

The 'adoption' of Dimitrios would assure him of $8 a month as well as packages of food, clothing and shoes and medical treatment.

Soroptimists To Observe Founders Day

Obesrving Founders Day, the Lafayette-Orinda Soroptimist Club and the Walnut Creek Club will meet for luncheon Tuesday at Mike Lynn's, Orinda.

A collection of 38 pennies from each member will observe the number of years of organization and service of the Soroptimist Federation. This nation-wide contribution will go to the Founders Fund.

AAUW to State Meet

Some 15 women from Orinda Branch American Association of University Women, will attend the California State Divisional Workshop of the A.A.U.W. today and tomorrow in Palo Alto.

Garbage Permits To Be Awarded

By NORMAN COLBY

A public hearing, at which area garbage companies may apply for exclusive permits to operate without competition, will be held in November by the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District board of directors.

The date may be set by the directors at a meeting next Thursday evening in the district offices 1250 Springbrook Road, Walnut Creek.

Basis for the board's action is District Ordinance No. 34, adopted September 3 and effective about 10 days later.

The new ordinance is strictly a regulatory one, requiring each garbage operator to meet certain standards to retain his "exclusive permit," according to District Engineer Gerry Horstkotte.

AND THE $100 ANNUAL permit fee is too small to classify the ordinance as a money-raiser, he added.

In the September 3 meeting, directors Richard Mitchell, Irving Roemer and Raymond Fisher voted in favor of the ordinance.

Frank Salgingere voted no. Ernest Spiegl was absent.

Attorney Terrence Ring represented all of the five local garbage disposal companies.

He told the directors his clients preferred to be under sanitary district control, rather than county control, which will become effective with the expected passage of a long-awaited county garbage law.

COUNTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY John Nejedly, who formerly was the sanitary district's attorney, attended the meeting, but did not comment. The district's new attorney is John Bohn.

Lengthy discussion preceded the passage of the new law.

Salfingere said his main objection to the ordinance was that it was "rushed through" with the final adoption voted after the first reading, rather than the second reading, which is the normal procedure.

He added he felt that more public notice should be given before a final vote.

He said he could not understand why the garbage companies were so anxious to be under the control of the sanitary district, rather than the county, since he assumed the county and district ordinance will be similar in most respects.

THE RELATIVELY QUIET atmosphere of this meeting was in sharp contrast to the sanitary board meeting of seven years ago—June 12, 1952.

This was when 100 angry residents stormed the district chambers—Mitchell and Spiegel among them—and demanded reconsideration by the directors of that time, who a week earlier had passed a revenue-raising garbage ordinance.

Objections then were lack of public notification and also the feelings by residents that a free-competitive system of garbage collecting was doing a good job and should not by upset by the "franchise" system.

The directors replied in heated debate, but finally reluctantly voted to rescind their action, and the adoption of the ordinance was killed before it became final.

And there the matter rested, except for periodic revivals during informal and private discussions.

ENGINEER HORSTKOTTE TOLD The Sun the district has needed a garbage ordinance for a long time.

"Its purpose is to guarantee that the garbage is picked up and certain necessary standards are met. And without an ordinance, there is nothing to prevent the companies from raising their rates at will," he said.

He added, however, that there have been no problems from lack of service in the past years, and with the passage of the ordinance he does not anticipate any applications for increases in rates for another year at least.

He said there will be no bidding for the permits, and they will be granted generally on the basis of ". . . the firms which have been doing it in the specified areas for X number of years." But legally, the applicants are not limited to these five.

The five firms have been given notice of the permit hearing by Horstkotte.

THEY ARE THE Orinda Garbage and Refuse Disposal, Pleasant Hill Disposal Service (Boyd Olney), Diablo Disposal Service, Lafayette Garbage Disposal and Valley Disposal Service, Inc.

Valley Disposal has a franchise from the City of Walnut Creek and pays about $600 per year for it. The company also serves Walnut Creek environs.

Horstkotte said there are no other garbage companies operating in the areas, so the granting of the exclusive permits will not deprive anyone of existing income or the right to continue operations.

A major fear by residents in 1952 was that the revenue producing ordinance would result in higher rates for collection. The regulatory ordinance has not prompted observers to voice such fears this time.

Horstkotte explained, ". . . In 1952 the district was in dire straits, as far as raising money was concerned. Almost any means of revenue had to be considered."

PORTIONS OF THE ordinance are as follows:

". . . the directors shall be responsible for the enforcement of this ordinance and shall establish geographical service areas for the collection and disposal of garbage and the issuance of franchises or permits . . ."

". . . garbage shall be removed once each week . . . or as often as required by the health officer.

". . . IT SHALL BE UNLAWFUL . . . to operate a garbage collection or transportation service . . . or for any garbage collector to operate . . . without possessing a permit . . ."

". . . the board may issue an exclusive permit for the conduct of the garbage collection and transport service within a geographical service area. Provided, however, that prior to the designation of any geographical service area, the board shall hold a public hearing . . ."

A GRIM SIGHT for spectators is the wreck of a station wagon carrying five persons which crashed through a guard rail and landed upside down on Oak Hill Road in Lafayette. Highway patrolmen, firemen and ambulance drivers tried to save the people trapped in the car. A doctor pronounced two dead on the scene and the others are recovering in hospitals.

—Sun photos by Dave Ogden

CARELESSNESS CAUSED the death of two adults and injuries to two youths and another adult early Saturday night. The late model station wagon was going 50 to 60 miles an hour in light traffic when the driver looked into the back seat. Within seconds, the car struck a guard rail and plunged to the pavement 40 feet below the Lafayette bypass.

Look Over Shoulder Costs Two Lives, Three Injured

A woman driver looking into the back seat of the station wagon she was driving cost two lives and three persons to be seriously injured, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The car careened through a concrete guard rail on the Lafayette Bypass Saturday night and fell to the pavement below. Witnesses say concrete chunks were scattered down the freeway and on Oak Hill Road where the car landed up side down.

THE DEAD were identified as Arnold O. Van Vickle, 25, an apprentice embalmer from Eugene, Oregon, who had been staying at 1029 Geary Street, San Francisco, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Lou Williams, 29, of 325 Richardson Way, Mill Valley.

Critically injured were Mrs. Adele Van Vickle, 25, wife of Van Vickle and sister of Mrs. Williams; her son, Keith Van Vickle, 20 months, and the son of Mrs. Williams, Daniel Williams, 15 months.

Highway Patrolman Donald spectacular crash since the new Schultz described it as the most freeway was opened.

HE SAID the occupants had been visiting cousins in Concord and were on their way to San Francisco with Mrs. Williams driving.

As they came to the Oak Hill Road area, the car hit a guard rail on the left side went out of control, swerved across the freeway and went through the concrete and steel to plunge to the road below.

Lafayette Assistant Fire Chief Ed Armanio heard the crash and sent two engines and five firemen to help get the victims out.

The firemen, with the help of a tow truck, had to turn the smashed station wagon over and use pry bars to get the adults and infants out.

"It was a tangled mass of humanity," Armanio said.

VAN VICKLE and Mrs. Williams were pronounced dead on the scene by a physician.

Mrs. Van Vickle and the two children were taken to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek, all of them suffering from head injuries.

The impact smashed the top of the station wagon down to the door level, making it more difficult to get the victims out, officers said.

Condon Challenges Young

I ALSO REFER you to the opinion of the attorney general, dated September 19, 1947, appearing in Volume 10 of the Attorney General's Opinions at page 125, stating that the sheriff must reimburse the county for fees received in connection with transporting sick persons to state hospitals where county vehicles have been used.

"I challenge the legality of Sheriff Young having this outside income. I am certain that the electorate did not realize that our sheriff by virtue of his outside income is paid more than the sheriff of Los Angeles County, San Francisco County and every other elected official of Contra Costa County including yourself.

"I believe that public officials should be paid adequate salaries so that able people will seek public office. I do not believe that they should be allowed to have undisclosed and indeterminate sums of money paid as fees by private persons for performance of public duty."

Christmas Bureau Seeks New Support

The Christmas Bureau of central Contra Costa County has sent 400 letters enlisting the aid of local civic, church, school and fraternal organizations in planning a "happier Christmas" for the needy families of our community.

The bureau operates under the sponsorship of the Volunteer Bureau of Walnut Creek.

Last year the Christmas Bureau provided toys, food and clothing for 62 families including 189 children. One hundred groups or private individuals participated.

"The purpose of the Christmas Bureau which works closely with the Red Cross, schools, churches and county welfare is to discover the needs, certify the worthiness of recipients and to act as a clearing house to avoid duplication," said Mrs. James Morris, chairman of the bureau.

"We encourage all groups to register with us immediately," she said.

"Individuals and clubs can help us by cash contributions, which will be used for food, shoe orders and clothes; by contributions of canned food or new toys; and by notifying us of needy families.

Information may be obtained from Mrs. James Morris of Lafayette or by calling the Volunteer Bureau of Walnut Creek.

The Navy's Military Sea Transportation Service was activated on October 1, 1949, thereby combining the services of both Army and Navy transports ferrying troops and supplies throughout the world.

The lot is to be located on the north side of the projection of Carlback Avenue between North Broadway and Civic Drive.

The commissioners recommended approval, with the condition that recommendations by the city engineer, including those for grading, be complied with.

Gets Play Role

Sharon Mayne, former Pleasant Hill student, is currently playing the role of Mrs. Blanche Damon in James Thurber and Elliott Nugent's "The Male Animal" at Chico State College.

Miss Mayne, a freshman, is studying elementary education and drama.

The play, a satire on midwestern university life and the football-mad atmosphere of a "big ten" school, was originally produced on Broadway in 1940.

Planners OK Revolving Sign

City Planning Commissioner Richard Betzenderfer was at first doubtful when his group was presented with an application for an 8x8 foot double face revolving sign for the new Shell service station at Ygnacio Valley Road and Sheppard Road, Walnut Creek.

But the sign does not exceed the limits of the proposed sign ordinance, he was told, since the 100 square foot minimum does not apply to the combined size of all signs on the station.

Two Youths Face Rape Accusation

Two Walnut Creek youths are being held on charges of statutory rape in connection with an incident involving a 15-year-old Orinda baby sitter Sunday evening.

The youths, arrested Monday after they admitted being with the girl at the home of Hugh B. Johnston, 108 Scenic Drive, Orinda, are Lloyd Dean Thomas, 18, 1795 San Luis Road, and Rodger Eno Johnson, 22, 1940 Alvarado Avenue.

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES said the youths admitted being with the girl at the Johnston home, where she was baby sitting, and admitted having intimate relations with her.

The girl was discovered in an unconscious condition on the living room floor when Johnston returned home about 10 p.m. Sunday, deputies said.

She claimed she had not been drniking, officers continued, but the two youths admitted she had served them gin and brandy drinks.

ACCORDING TO Deputy Sheriff John Snyder, the suspects visited the girl earlier in the day, and when Johnston asked her to baby sit, she asked if the youths could join her at the Orinda residence. Johnston reportedly said it was all right.

A local physician who examined the teenaged girl after she was found said she had not been assaulted, but may have been doped by a drink, according to deputies.

Capwell's Plans Third Floor For 1960

Anticipated expansion of existing buildings in Walnut Creek is headed by Capwell's anticipated construction of a third floor, sometime in 1960, according to John Tague, Capwell's manager.

The present building in the Broadway Shopping Center was constructed about five years ago.

It was also announced that Sears-Roebuck plans to add a wing to its present structure in Broadway, and tires and auto servicing will be added.

Most apparent of the present enlargements is the construction of a new clinic building for $750,000 where the front parking lot was located, and new maternity and emergency sections at Kaiser Foundation Hospital.

Exclusion Asked By Residents of Sleepy Hollow

A total of 20 formal protests and petitions for exclusion from the proposed City of Sleepy Hollow have been received by county officials to date, Jerry Tara, deputy county assessor, reported yesterday.

Tara said no actual land valuation figure has been reached yet, but that his office is studying the petitions and will submit a report at the time of the board of supervisors hearing on the proposed incorporation at 10 a.m. October 20.

HE REPORTED THAT a few letters containing petitions for exclusion are being received each day and they appear scattered, with no concentration of area.

Petitions for exclusion totaling 51 per cent of the $196,000 land value of the 500-acre residential community are required to stop an incorporation election.

Tara noted that some of the petitions received by his office were on forms, indicating there is a movement under way in the Hollow to stop the proposed incorporation.

FIRST OPPOSITION TO the proposal was expressed about 10 days ago at the first public meeting ever held on the matter. About 350 persons attended the meeting in the Sleepy Hollow School.

Following the public session, Charles Gibbs announced he is distributing petitions for exclusion and will present them to the supervisors at the public hearing. There was no indication as to how many signatures or how much land value Gibbs will represent.

Classified ads carried in The Sun each week outnumber the combined total of the classified ads in the other two local papers, the Walnut Kernel and the Contra Costa Times.

For instance, Sun classifieds for the issue of September 30 totaled 499.

The Times that issue had 253 classifieds, and the Kernel had for a combined total of 358. This is 141 ads short of the Sun's total.

THIS IS THE STORY every week.

In the September 23 issue, The Sun had 491 ads, compared to the Times' 244 and the Kernel's 123—their combined total still 124 shy of the Sun's.

For the September 16 issue, it was 480 ads for The Suns, 275 for the Times and 95 for the Kernel.

The Sun had 520 ads for the September 9 issue compared to the Times' 230 and the Kernel's 83.

This was the story EVERY issue, every month for 1957, 1958 and 1959. And this will continue to be the story. Why?

BECAUSE PEOPLE WANT to place their ads where they get the best, fastest results. Central County readers KNOW The Sun has the most ads, and they turn to The Sun first when they want to buy, sell or just scan.

The readership is the highest, attracting the classified customers! The classified totals are the highest, attracting the readers!

The Sun's official count of classifieds can be checked by anyone with a little patience at counting ads.

Our count for September 30 issue means that 499 classifieds ran in The Sun. Each of them ran once in The Sun Shopping News, and then once in the Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Orinda Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun. One ad duplicated in five issues is counted ONLY ONCE.

HERE IS THE LATEST complete tabulation for all communities in the central county—the September 30 issue.

	SUN	KERNEL	TIMES
Walnut Creek	245	44	143
Lafayette	86	4	20
Orinda	46	4	4
Concord	95	31	60

Fire Service Would Be Lessened, Opponents Say

At a recent meeting of the Lafayette Taxpayers Anti-Incorporation League, another in a series of reports on the disadvantages of incorporation of the rural community was presented.

According to the report, prepared on the status of fire protection, services would be lessened at increased expense to the residents of Lafayette.

THE REPORT CONTAINED the following conclusions:

1. Contrary to the statements of the proponents, Lafayette, if it became a city, could not dissolve the fire district or take over its assets.

2. Though attorneys disagree, it may be possible for the city to withdraw the incorporated area from the district. If this were accomplished, all of the assets of the district would go to the remaining portion of the district, outside the incorporated limits. It would then be up to the district to divide the assets with the city on the basis of proportionate assessed valuation. The city would have no right to designate assets to be received. It would be expensive for the city to reestablish the fire department so that it could maintain its present level of service.

3. THE PROPONENTS HAVE stated that they would contract with the unincorporated portions of the district for fire protection, thus increasing income to the city. It is probable that the area outside of the city will annex to adjoining districts who presently have a lower tax rate for fire protection.

4. Fire protection will cost more per capita. Even though the city, with a smaller population than the present fire district, will have fewer people to pay for fire protection, the amount of equipment and personnel necessary to maintain the present level of service will remain approximately the same.

5. The fire department will be less efficient if the proponents carry out their announced plans to use facilities and personnel of the fire department for police work. Such a proposal would take trained fire-fighters from their specialties and require them to be adept at police work. Such a program would result in poorer police protection as well as substandard fire protection.

6. FIRE INSURANCE RATES could be increased to every homeowner. One of the determining factors in setting a fire zone for an area is the effectiveness of the fire department. Since fire insurance rates are dependent on the type of zone, a change in the fire department could result in Lafayette becoming a higher zone with a higher insurance rate.

7. There is no guarantee that the sickness, retirement and other benefits presently received by members of the department will be continued.

8. It is highly unlikely that any money can be diverted from the operation of the fire department to help run the proposed city and still maintain the present level of fire service.

Learn Secrets Of Publicity At Sun Session!

The job of publicity chairman, considered a "nasty" one by some members of the area's hundreds of active groups, can be done right, and without too much work, if you know how.

The "know-how" will be taken care of at The Sun's "Publicity and Public Relations Workshop, to be held October 20 at 8 p.m. in the Acalanes High School cafeteria. The public is invited.

The purpose of the workshop is to help iron out any difficulties publicity chairmen and presidents of organizations may have regarding publicity and public relations.

Brief outlines will be furnished all attending showing the proper presentation of copy, some general hints on style and preparation of material, and above all, how to get your material presented in the way you want it, when you want it.

"We fully realize the difficult task that faces most publicity chairmen and most organizations who depend on mass media such as newspapers to acquaint the public with their functions," commented Sun Publisher Herman Silverman.

"With this in mind we have planned this meeting to see if members of our staff can't share some of their know-how with those who face the task of preparing material during the coming year.

Market Robbed By Armed Youth

An armed youth held up the Min-a-Mart market in Pleasant Hill and got away with approximately $200 Saturday night, according to reports of the Contra Costa Sheriff office.

Marvin C. Williams, 38, of 2372 Geraldine Drive, told sheriff's deputies that the youth forced him at gunpoint to remove the money from a cash register and put in into a paper bag.

Then the robber fled out of the store at 2296 Monument Boulevard.

Williams grabbed a knife and chased, but lost sight of him in the darkness.

Williams son, Gerald, 13, who was in the store at the time, said he had seen a man slumped down in a car outside shortly before the robbery.

That Bell (School) Tolls For You and Me, Parents!

Hey, Dad, how long has it been since you've been to school?

We might add that the same thing goes for you, Mom!

We're not talking about active class participation. Most of us left the dear old halls of hallowed State U. quite a few years ago.

In fact, since that time we have managed to settle down and contribute to the present crowded school conditions in the lower grades by adding a couple of chips off the old block.

This means that it has probably been a very long time indeed since you wandered through the corridors of an elementary grade school. And if your youngsters are attending such a school, you should be interested.

OF COURSE, YOU ARE interested, but we know how busy we all get, don't we. And we know how nice it is to settle down in that comfortable chair and watch TV for a couple of hours in the evening, after a hectic day and the kids have been put to bed.

We would like to suggest that you get out of your chair, dad, and get involved in the program of the school or schools your chidren are attending.

It's simply a matter of overcoming inertia. It's a lot easier to sit there and read the paper or watch TV than to get the car out of the garage and trek over to the school to see what's up.

Many schools have had "meet the teacher" nights and some are still having them. If you missed the opportunity to find out what is what in your child's school, then make plans to attend the next one.

IN THE MEANTIME, how about getting active in your PTA or parents club? You'l find that it is a real insight into the operation and problems faced by the school district and the individual schools.

If the open house nights are still being held in your child's school, by all means attend.

You'll find that it is more interesting than you might think at first.

You'll come away with a real appreciation of the tremendous job the schools are doing with our kids. Better yet, after you have visited the classroom and met the teacher, you will be a little more familiar with the world in which your child spends most of his time.

Remember, this is his world. He spends almost as much time at school as you spend at work, and it is a real asset if you can understand something about this world. It will help you to understand some of your child's problems — some of his pleasures.

You may miss a couple hours of TV, but you'll find it is worth it. And the bond between you and your children will be that much stronger. Don't you think it is a good investment?

EVERYONE HAS problems on the job, but a photographer's life is really . . . Well, for a few details, read this week's Staff Corner at the lower left of this page. Sun Staffer Bob Rapida discusses this interesting profession along with some comments on dogs, cameras and complicated directions.

Be A Good Guy.. Or Doll... Give To United Crusade

The assumption is that every good guy — and the dolls too — wants to help the underprivileged, the trouble, the handicaped, the youth of our communities . . .

So speaks the United Crusade — and rightly so, because all of us who find ourselves in a more fortunate position than some of our neighbors are willing to help them out if we are aware of their troubles.

All during this month the United Crusade is carrying out its campaign for funds — funds that will provide support for 19 local agencies, 52 county agencies and 263 agencies in the five Bay Area counties.

Just where does the money go? When you give, will you ever see any results from your contribution?

YOU CERTAINLY should, because you and your family are involved in the work that these United Crusade agencies are doing.

Let's consider some of the agencies — and this is only a partial list — that affect you and your children.

Support goes to the Camp Fire Girls, Diablo Valley Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Volunteer Bureau and Young Men's Christian Association.

Also such county agencies as the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross, the Boy Scouts and the Mental Health Society receive contributions.

If you have a boy or girl around the house, it is almost a sure thing that you are in contact with a United Crusade agency, or are affected by one.

CHANCES ARE that during this month, sometime, a volunteer will come around to ask for your contribution. It is also a good bet that you will know the volunteer, because it is liable to be your next door neighbor. More than 5000 such "neighbors" will donate their time to gather funds for the crusade.

We are plagued with fund drives, there is no question about that. But it should be obvious that the United Crusade funds go to local services — to agencies which serve each and every one of us.

Therefore we urge that you consider your needs and your responsibilities in the community, and give whatever you can to the United Crusade.

You will be helping your neighbors and your community.

And you may be helping yourself.

Man's Best Friend Hates Photomen with a Passion

By BOB RAPIDA

Every once in a while I think of other people's jobs.

"Wow, I wouldn't have that guy's job for all the . . . etc.," I think to myself whenever I see a person do some type of work which just doesn't settle right with my particular Code of Working Conditions.

BUT, AS TO everyone, the point is driven home just how well off I really am, when I have to do photography.

A couple of weeks ago I had to take a picture. Not that I mind taking pictures, it's just that I usually end up with a picture of the wrong thing, person, event or just come back with a prize-winning double exposure.

The second reason I don't like to take pictures is that every time I do come back with an out of focus, under exposed shot of the wrong event, my regular, steady income is threatened. (i.e., the boss gets real pushed out of shape).

Then there are the personal problems invoved in picture taking. For example, take a glance at the picture at the top of this page.

I WENT OUT one bright day to take a picture of a group of women for a society event. First of all I got lost. I thought the picture was to be taken at 117 Monte Vista Drive and it turned out to be 117 Monte Vista Avenue. The two sound the same, but they are really located about seven miles apart.

Then there was the trouble of going to the right address which was easy to find. (You just go from the freeway to Spring Road, turn left at the next street and drive until you see a white fence by a utility pole, just across from there is the access road to Monte Vista).

This is fine, but you have just gone blind and near crazy trying to find the directions to a street seven miles away.

By the time you get to the scene (the right one) you are a half hour late. The people are unhappy, you are unhappy and the people are so unhappy they have not tied up their dogs.

NOW, PEOPLE JUST don't have small dogs anymore, in our era of prosperity, everyone has to have a dog the size of a pachyderm. (All dogs hate photographers, all photographers hate dogs). Immediately upon seeing the "black box" carried by the photographer, the dog makes it his personal crusade to save home, master and doggie bon-bons from this intruder.

After a brief scuffle with the dog (the photographer jumps back into his car and rolls all the windows in hope someone will save him) the owner of the mutt, (the dog has a long list of pedigrees, which far surpass the lineage of the cameraman) assures our frightened friend, "the dog won't bite."

After this sort of an experience, how is anyone supposed to remember the aperature and the f.stops and the focusing and whatever else it is that you are supposed to do to come back with a picture?

Even my dog, Copper, a calm Irish Setter, hates cameramen, including me. I make it a point to never invite a photographer to the house. My insurance carrier has dropped me after the third photoman was bitten.

WELL, OUR SUN photographers are darn good and they do come back with the pictures. But, as in everything they run into a little bit of trouble and may be late for a picture. If they are these have been a few reasons explaining their tardiness.

In any case, if I should ever take your picture, please treat me as a misplaced person who is frightened by dogs, complicated directions and cameras.

"Don't stand a ghost of a chance with October . . .

By MARIE MONAHAN

OCTOBER, a week old . . . & wouldn't you know? There's hardly a place that we don't have to go —

The dentist, the Doctor, & THREE P.T.A.'s . . . the Cubs Scouts, & Club-Outs, we're QUITE in a daze!

Daze isn't the half of it, really, My Dearie — we're beginning to feel just a trifle bit weary!

TALLY-HO! for the gas tank — ten gallons a day — while hither & yon town we chauffeur away —

It's time, say the Ladies, we must organize. It's time, say the Men, to revise & advise & the Chamber is planning ANOTHER surprise!

It's time, say the children, for our costumes, Disguise!

It's time at the ring of the alarm to arise. In the dark. Without spark. The birds still asleep, not a neighborhood peep, nor the sound of a lark or a bark from a doggy. Who wants to get up when the mornings are foggy?

Little schoolgirls in plaids look like Kate Greenaways & the boys wear their jeans which have surely seen better days.

The lunch pails are rusting, the trousers are busting, the keds are getting worn out & the shirt buttons torn out. The weather is forlorn out. It's Fall. That's all. October!

OCTOBER!

When Summer is definitely, absolutely & completely gone, All Over!

The school buses grind by. Some children miss 'em — then you haul them by car & you HARDLY can kiss 'em!

It's the Time of the Apple, the squash & the gourd.

Time when you haven't a chance to be bored!

Time to free eaves from the leaves, clear the drains — In time the oncoming rains, which are Pains!

CRISP mornings mean hot oatmeal, bacon & toast —

The Big Day Decision for each Little Ghost —

"Which shall it be, Mom — Which Witch is The Most?"

It's Bats in the Belfry.

Fruit Flies in the jam.

Frost on the Pumpkin & cloves on the Ham!

MAY the Larder be endowed — with plenty of sweets for the Trick & Treat Crowd!

The stores are all decked out & want to be seen — with more than we need for just ONE Hallowe'en. Oct. 31 is the way they remind us — that Dec. 24 is NOT FAR behind us!

OCTOBER, sportive creature makes a feature —

Of Life of Hot Dog & Hooray & yelling from a bleacher!

First rains & then Chrysanthemums, a rash of —

One to wear while a Football Hero makes a 40-yard line dash of.

October sends a breeze to start a sneeze & then Kerchoo!

We wish it would stay warm instead of getting cold, don't you?

MONTH of goblins, spooks so eerie

I'm afraid will leave us

Kinda weary!

Letters to The Editor

CARE FOR CANINES

Dear Editor:

Our dog, a black cocker, was struck by a car on Honey Hill Road late in the afternoon on Thursday, October 1. We thank God that she is recovering from painful internal injuries.

Our house is far from the road and Daisy was discovered only because my daughter was near enough to hear the screeching of brakes.

I know that dogs can be a menace to drivers when they wander onto a road. I also know that the driver can't always be sure that he hit the dog. Whether Daisy was knocked to the side or got there herself, I can't say, but my daughter saw her limp into the middle of the road to collapse. If not found, immediately, she could have been struck again.

I write this only in the interest of other loved pets—please stop, drivers, just to be sure.

ALICE RASMUSSEN.

COMMUTER

Dear Editor,

As the recipient of the "Lucky Commuter" award, I wish to thank you and your staff for the check and the year's subscription to "The Sun".

We have always enjoyed your paper and appreciate the excellent service that it performs in our community.

PINBALL TAX

Dear Editor:

I thought you would be interested in the following article, quoted in its entirety from the "Tax Report" column of the September 23 issue of THE WALL STREET JOURNAL:

"Revenuers tighten up on taxing "pinball" machines.

Up to now such machines were taxed at only a $10 annual fee as amusement units, unless the Service could prove that the machines' unused "free plays" won by the players were redeemed for cash or merchandise; in the latter case they were taxed $250 a year as gambling devices.

"Enforcement hinged, of course, on evidence gathered by tax sleuths. Now their task has been greatly eased. The Service has just ruled, in keeping with a Federal District Court decision, that pinball machines need only be equipped to register free plays to be taxed as gambling devices."

This may not eliminate the entire problem—but it will take a big hunk out of the profit from the machine.

You might even help the Internal Revenue Service to locate machines that register free plays.

Dog Club Ladies Like 'Turnout'

The Walnut Creek Sportsmen Club was the setting for the "turnabout" potluck supper before the September meeting of the Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club.

Under the direction of committeemen Ed Germaine, Sam Davis and Howard Hooper, tempting food was prepared by apron-clad men members of the club and served buffet style with newspaper tablecloths and candle-light motif on the dining tables.

Much appreciated by the ladies who attended was the fact that all the committees including the kitchen and clean-up details were "manned" by the sons and husbands.

At the meeting following this elegant fare a firm second by the ladies was given to the motion to make this an annual event.

The motion was only weakly approved by the men contingent, it was reported.

In the business session, Mrs. Florence Fox, treasurer, said that a profit of $300 was realized from the recent rummage sale.

This amount will go to the club's trophy fund in connection with the 13th annual Obedience Trials scheduled for May 1, at the Walnut Creek city park.

Mrs. Betty Kerr then announced the dates for the next fund-raising event planned by the group to support the trial fund.

Why Don't More Cubs Become Boy Scouts?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Today I am going to touch on a touchy subject.

In the newspaper field, there are a few "sacred cows" — and among these is the Boy Scout movement.

I am among the millions who believe that Boy Scouting can be the most wonderful thing to happen to a boy. I was a Boy Scout and loved it. I have the fondest memories of scouting. I would like to see every boy have the opportunity — and the desire — to be a Scout.

And that is why I am writing this column today about Cubs and Boy Scouts.

Here is the question again

The question on the agenda: Does Cub Scouting discourage many boys from continuing into Boy Scouts?

My answer: yes.

I hastily admit I am no expert on this problem. I have no nation-wide statistics. I am a punk reporter, for I have not recently talked to Scout officials. I hereby ask our Scout officials for their comments on this problem to be printed in The Sun.

But I am not talking without experience.

I have two boys who have each finished THREE years as a Cub. Each had able and not-so-able Cub leaders (mothers, to be more specific). The Cubs had their tests, of course. But from eight years through eleven years, they had crafts, crafts, crafts.

A few examples:

Our Cubs attended den and pack meetings regularly. They (and their leaders) did what they were supposed to do.

Now let's examine Case History 1: the six boys in Mark's den. (Mark is my older boy.) All went through Cubbing (even though a few mothers were almost lost on the way). To the best of my knowledge, not one Cub went into Boy Scouts. Maybe one did.

Mark went to a few Scout meetings. Then we suddenly realized that he was going into Scouts only because I expected him to. Mark was a very happy boy when we had a man-to-man talk and he said he really didn't want to become a Scout.

Dan's den had more boys — about eight. One or two are still Cub age. So far, however, none has gone into Boy Scouts — except one. The one is Dan. He is hep and tonight he takes his tenderfoot tests.

The joys of Scouting

Of course, I am delighted. Dan will enjoy the tremendous benefits of Scouting. He will hike in the beautiful Sierra. He will learn first aid, communications, nature lore, skills — you know. He will become a better boy and man because of Scouting.

But what about Mark and the other 10 or 12 boys? They have lost this wonderful opportunity.

Certainly the boys had their chance. They could have continued. They didn't.

Why?

Three years of Cubs

They "had it." They were tired of "Scouting." They had had three, long years of Cubs and apparently thought Scouts would be more of the same. (Of course, it isn't) But they just aren't willing to go on.

What's the answer? I don't know but I believe that eight is too young to start them as Cubs. Three years is too long. Frankly, if we were to have our choice again, I would discourage my boys from going into Cubs at all. I would then encourage them with all my might to join Scouts. This is probably extreme. Perhaps a year or so of Cubs would be okay.

Not enough statistics?

I admit that these case histories are in one neighborhood. They could be completely wrong. A top Scout official several years ago said that inadequate leadership or programming in a Cub Den could cause boys to lose interest in scouting. (Dan's Cub program was very good, I thought).

Let me note that my little Girl Scout Janet and her friends went from Brownies into Girl Scouts without problems. And the Brownies begin at 7!

I may be doing Scouting an injustice. This problem may be entirely local. I hope so.

And that is why I am raising the question. Perhaps you will write in your experience. And I'm anxious to hear what the Scout officials have to say.

What do you think?

Model of Art Center's Building to be Shown

Vintage champagne and rental gallery paintings will be featured at the Valley Art Center's reception for members and friends next Friday, when they will see the model of their proposed building.

Dr. and Mrs. Fletcher B. Taylor, 3675 Nordstrom Road, Lafayette, have offered their colonial home in Happy Valley Glen for the exhibit from 7 to 9 p.m.

The model was designed by David Thorne, Berkeley architect. His wife, Pat, helped assemble the miniature building.

Robert Cornwall, landscape architect, will coordinate his plan with Thorne's, as will Robert Heaton, Lafayette-Berkeley consultant engineer, and Fred C. Kirkham, Walnut Creek general contractor.

The social planning committee is headed by Mrs. Howard Holmes.

This is the first step towards the center's goal of establishing a permanent art center to serve the Diablo Valley—Lafayette, Orinda, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Concord, Martinez, Pittsburg and Antioch.

Members of the committee which met at the home of Mrs. James Moore of Happy Valley were Mesdames Thomas Boothe, Stanley Coffey, George Monheit, Phillip Merrill, John Martsolf, Arthur James Ford, T. C. Spencer, John Lindberg, Fletcher Taylor, Burchard Styles, Frank Clapp.

Mesdames Howard Converse, William Vogt, Bruce Anderson, William Wilkinson, Richard Boaz, Edmund Barnett, Richard Ward, and Howard Holmes.

The permanent art center building fund was begun three years ago in memory of Dorothy Moore Brown, resident and accomplished photographer in Lafayette for many years.

She was the originator of the Artists Market of the Outdoor Art Shows Inc., now known as the Valley Art Center.

Many of Mrs. Brown's friends contributed and the fund grew large enough to purchase a lot on Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

Fund raising affairs have emphasized art exhibits in local homes and at the Orchard Nursery in Lafayette.

The Valley Art Center has acquired capital to begin planning the building of the Art Center.

Persons interested in contributing should contact or mail contributions to the treasurer, Julian N. Stern, 1064 Via Roble, Lafayette, or to any member of the Permanent Art Center Building Committee.

It includes Mrs. John M. Ellis, chairman, 3359 Springhill Road, Lafayette. William Wilkinson, 440 Camino Sobrante, Orinda, George Hansen, 4131 Los Arabis, Lafayette, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ward, 3380 St. Mary's Road, Lafayette.

'Feminine Fancies' Coming Our Way Soon

SARAH NEWCOMB and Janet Hicks, daughters of Heidi Chapter members and former Heidi theme girls in past years, admire the Swiss costume of Martha Klass who will portray Little Miss Heidi and lead the models for this chapter's 11th annual fashion show Thursday at the Castlewood Country Club. All proceeds from this party go to the Children's Home Society a member of United Crusade.

Heidi Chapter Plans On 800 Participants

Tuesday members of Heidi Chapter of Children's Home Society will gather for their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. R. H. Lockey, Siebert Court, Lafayette, to discuss the final plans for their 11th annual fashion show, "Feminine Fancies," Thursday at Castlewood Country Club at noon.

According to Mrs. Charles Morrill, general chairman, her committee chairmen and their assistants are all prepared to entertain the hundereds of guests with a pleasant afternoon.

Models now being fitted for the showing of fall costumes report that they are indeed elegant and outstanding this season.

Showing the fashions from H. Liebes & Co., San Francisco, will be Mesdames Bernard S. Ginsburg, Karl T. Goeppert Jr., Robert H. Goodale Jr., Walter Markstein, W. J. McGuire, Donald McVean, Philip Muscheid, James Parker Newcomb, Montell Nofte, Robert Pierson, E. J. Ringrose, Thomas J. Stack, Don Thompson, C. Wadsworth White, Jack Davis and Miss Kathy Roberts. "Little Miss Heidi" portrayed by Martha Klass will lead the mannequins down the ramp.

Lloyd Liebes Jr., will be the commentator and will be assisted by Mrs. Margaret Tullus, fashion director. E. Fodor, Walnut Creek pianist and teacher will provide the musical background.

Mrs. Morrill, whose co-chairman for the event is Mrs. Glenn Stubblefield, has been assisted by the following committee which has worked since early in the year on the very many details for a party of this size: Mesdames Roy C. Falk, O. R. Hayes, E. E. Cappel, Sally Lassagne, W. A. Siebert, E. S. Plescia, Jack Campbell, Robert H. Lockey, James Parker Newcomb, J. M. Browning, R. P. Cornelison and Ledru Frank.

Some 800 guests are expected to attend this affair, the outstanding money raiser of Heidi chapter. All proceeds go to the Children's Home Society, a members of the United Crusade and the oldest licensed private adoption agency in California. Since 1891 the Children's Home Society has been giving service to children in California and during that time has placed almost 20,000 children with loving adoptive mothers and fathers.

Yosemite Branch Will Discuss Constitution

Constitution and by-laws discussions will be the main order of business at the October 16 meeting of the newly organized Yosemite Branch of the John Muir Memorial Hospital.

The meeting will be held at the Lafayette home of Mrs. William M. Sheeran.

Officers recently elected include Mrs. Jack Marchant, president; Mrs. Hal Bates, vice president; Mrs. Horace Firth, secretary and Mrs. William Sheeran, treasurer.

Other new members are the Mesdames Lyall Bishop, Richard Butler, Cyril Callister, Don Campbell, Amos Leffler, Ronald Light, Walter Meima, Raymond Righetti and Donald Stearns, all of Lafayette, and Mrs. John Serr of Orinda.

Branch members were in charge of properties at the recent gala benefit "An Evening Under the Stars."

Yosemite Branch, along with other auxiliary branches, is now engaged in working on the fund raising drive for the John Muir Memorial Hospital which is currently underway.

On The Lighter Side

By CAROL HODGES

Macaroni and cheese, molded salads, chili beans, cole slaw, French bread, wine, coffee and chilled watermelon!

A "Fiesta Luncheon" for sure and a gala time, too, at the home of Mrs. Julius Kuehn of Lakewood Circle, Walnut Creek. The Walnut Creek Surbanettes and their guests, 112 in all, enjoyed just such fare in lovely wooded gardens on a LOVELY sunny day, and there were the lucky ones who won baskets of groceries and very attractive disc planters filled with succulents, plus the fortunates who managed to out-bid their competitors for the COLORFUL "pinatas."

These, I understand, are used in Mexico during the Christmas Holidays, are filled with gifts, and made of BRIGHT colored paper. They vary in size, two to four feet long, and are shaped to represent drums, animals or just about anything at all and are TRULY fascinating.

Proceeds from this annual affair benefit the Lynn School for the Retarded. Mesdames John Ransome, Julius Kuehn, Arthur McDougall, Woodruff Donaldson, Ted Randall, A. G. Kowall, G. C. Hutchings (president of the Suburbanettes) and Ruby Knight headed the committees arranging food, decorations, etc.

Coffee and new members, together. . .

Members of the Lombardy Branch of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay, enjoyed a coffee "klatch" at the home of Bee Comerford in Orinda to welcome three new members this past week.

Heralded into the group were Marge Montgomery, Betty Campbell and Dorothy Markus all of Orinda. Their October meeting will be held at the hospital to acquaint the new members with the workings of the organization and also to tour the Lyon Research Laboratory which is a recent addition donated by the Harvey B. Lyon family.

And by the way, the Lombardy Branch members are still talking about their "Arabian Night" affair at the Orinda Country Club. As you know, it was to be held outdoors with glorified tents and potted palms, etc., but unfortunately, were "rained in." As many decorations as possible were moved indoors and there were a few who found the palm leaves lethal and better if "away from!"

The "burnooses"—a sort of short sheet garment which wraps around the forehead—furnished to the men for atmosphere, were hot but fine if you live in Alaska! All in all, 'twas successful and LOADS of fun.

The Hill and Dale Dinner Dance at the Orinda Country Club tomorrow, to all intents and purposes, will be another GAY affair and reservations have been pouring in. In charge of the "no host table" are the William McGuires and Ernest Abbes' of Orinda, who report a good turnout.

To date: the Nel Hambergs, George Merriams, Lloyd Rasmussens and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Lundblad of Orinda with their guests Dr. and Mrs. Lynn Burk of San Mateo; the Hi Hennings and Leo Youngs of Lafayette are attending. The Valentine Brookes, Stuart Davis', Edward Turks and Dr. and Mrs. Jack Gompertz of Orinda; the William Higgins and Lloyd Swaynes from Upper Happy Valley and Robert Goodales from Hidden Valley have all made their plans to do a little "pre-dance" entertaining.

Rains did much to change outdoor plans scheduled during our recent damp spell (what an understatement!) but undaunted, the Quails, a newer unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, came through with a highly successful event.

A barbecue party was the original plan, but after many phone calls, and the moving of equipment, decorations, etc.—this in short order—their party was held at the Lafayette Happy Valley Inn in the Cactus room which was just fine especially as they had a Mexican theme "La Fiesta de Septiembre" to begin with.

The decorations—colorful paper flowers—were everywhere about the room lending a festive air. After cocktails, a dinner consisting of prime ribs of beef, Mexican beans and salad, a SPIRITED four-piece combo kept the party HOPPING!

And another talented chairman heard from

Mrs. Gerald Clark from Moraga did so well as chairman of the committees and was assisted by Mrs. James Riegor with decorations, Mrs. John Voegtly, publicity, and from Orinda, Mrs. Gordon Palmquist, who secured the entertainment and Mrs. James Smith was in charge of tickets.

Cocktails at 12, luncheon at 1 and fashions by Fred Bennioff is the schedule for the "Mahalini" Fashion show at El Nido Rancho in Lafayette October 10. The Hummingbird Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center is putting this one on and if anything like last year's will be most enjoyable. Norma Ortez of Lafayette has tickets.

The fashions will be shown by models chosen from other units and include Mesdames Ray Cassani of the Cardinals; Rachwell Smith, Tanagers; Gerald Oulton of the Lafayette Larks; Edward French, Linnets; Edward Wilson, Quails; Norman Parker, Orioles; Howard Richman, Robins; William Mulligan, Flickers; Aninita Senstermacher, Wrens; Vance Perry, Flamingo and Mrs. Paul Findley of the Linnets Jr. From the Hummingbirds; Mrs. Robert Simpson, Mrs. Emmette O'Connel and Mrs. James Seagrove.

A charming tea was held at the home of Carolyn Morrill in Lafayette to honor new members of the Fantasia Branch of Childrens Home Society. Joining the group to help benefit this worthwhile cause are Sherri Gidley, Pam Houser, Linda Clifford, Joanna Jones, Bobbie Moore, Pam Metcalf, Penny Place, Millie DeLancey, Mary Colwell, Janet Elder, Kristie Kennedy, Leslie Jones, Joan McNulty, Diane Hanson and Linda Stiles—all students of Acalanes High.

Organ Society Is Planning Holiday Party

Members and guests of Diablo Organ Society will have an opportunity to play a newly developed small organ which has been lent for their meeting on Wednesday, at the new Contra Costa Real Estate Board room, 1343 Locust Street.

Several larger organs also will be provided for member "jam sessions."

An invitation to the 8 p.m. meeting has been extended all organ music enthusiasts, whether or not they own organs, by Membership Chairman Mrs. Herbert Wagner of Walnut Creek.

Refreshments will be served under the direction of Mrs. Jack Carpenter of Concord, hospitality chairman.

A prominent guest artist will be featured at the club's November meeting, according to Ken Linder of Alamo, president.

A Christmas party is being planned for the December meeting by Linder and his board, which includes Miles Deakins of Lafayette, vice president; L. C. "Hank" Kencke of Alamo, treasurer; Misses Loris Fisher and Jo Congdon of Pleasant Hill, recording and corresponding secretaries; Mrs. Caroline Gillette of Concord, historian; Mel Edgar of Concord, program chairman; Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Carpenter.

Linder said the group's September dinner dance, at which outgoing officers introduced their successors, was attended by 40 couples.

Music for dancing was furnished by club members. Special entertainment was an organ solo by Miss Jeanne Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Olsen of Lafayette.

Town, Country Women Will Hold Pre-Show Party

On Saturday evening, October 17, members and guests of the Lafayette Town and Country Club will gather at the Town Hall in Lafayette for a champagne punch party before attending the showing of "Laf-Frantics of 1959."

"Laf-Frantics" is one of the club's philanthropies and the Town and Country women have been given the assignment of canvassing merchants in Lafayette and the surrounding areas for ad space in the "Laf-Frantic's" program.

Mrs. Donald Wittinger is in charge of this project and her able committee members are Mesdames Perry Lund, Allen Grammar, Robert Allenby, Leon Campbell, Robert Arne, Ernest Limbocker, Glen Hansen, Donald Dietrich, Richard Palmer, Martin Pramme and Robert Hoole.

Many tickets have been sold to the members of the club and the committee is assured that their promotion efforts have not been in vain, and as in the three previous years, all the proceeds from the show will be donated to the Lafayette Community Center.

Girls are Pledged

Walnut Creek and Lafayette girls have been pledged to Alpha Phi sorority at Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., it was announced.

They are Emily Jones of Walnut Creek and Barbara Branstad of Lafayette.

Miss Galvan Becomes Mrs. Dohell

Barbara Galvan became Mrs. Richard A. Dohell September 26 in the Northbrae Community Church, Berkeley. Both were Orinda residents.

The bride wore a full length embroidered organdy gown with taffetta chapel length train, a twisted organdy crown with seed pearls and finger tip veil.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Joseph Tyman, the bride's sister, who lives in Walnut Creek.

Roger Dohell of Haward, Richard's brother, was best man, and Joseph Tyman performed usher duties.

Barbara was given away by her father. She is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Edmond Earl Galvan of 16 El Maminito, Orinda.

The couple will live in San Luis Obispo.

Women Bring 5 Ex-Presidents To Assembly

When the past president's assembly of Contra Costa County met in Concord recently, the Walnut Creek Women's Club was represented by five former presidents.

The assembly is made up of past presidents of all Federated clubs in the county and current presidents serving their second year.

They organized the Crippled Children's Society of Contra Costa County and have given financial aid and many hundreds of hours of volunteer service to the children and their families.

Mrs. J. V. Muirhead of Pittsburg, presiding officer, announced that the philanthropy fund this year will be boosted by a luncheon at the Alamo clubhouse on October 13.

Swallows To Name Slate

Swallows Unit of The Mt. Diablo Therapy Center gathered recently for the first fall meeting at the residence of Mrs. Leo Schell in Happy Valley with Mrs. Frank Wick as co-hostess.

Mrs. James Simonds, president, reviewed summer activities, congratulating the members on their individual fund raising projects.

Fall plans were discussed for a November White Elephant sale. Mrs. John Gilcrest will be chairman assisted by Mrs. Ted Barcelon and Mrs. Ted Taylor.

Mrs. William Nuoffer reminded the members that she is in charge of collecting donations of clothes from the Swallows to be taken out to the thrift shop in Walnut Creek, and that the shop is now having a mens' suit sale.

Vice President Mrs. Gordon Frazell introduced two new members, Mrs. Hal Bates and Mrs. William Hawkins, who were welcomed by the group.

A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Leo Schell, Mrs. Gordon Frazell and Mrs. Ted Barcelon was elected and will present a slate of candidates for officers at the October 22 meeting.

Republican Women to Breakfast

Mrs. Clare B. Williams, assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee, will meet Republican women of Contra Costa and Solano Counties at the Concord Inn next Friday at 9 a.m.

A continental breakfast will be served, according to Marjorie H. E. Benedict. Republican national committeewoman for California.

Mrs. Benedict has appointed Mrs. Frank E. Long, vice chairman of the Contra Costa County Republican Central Committee, and Mrs. Donald Krotz, first vice president of Northern California, Federation of Republican Women, to act as co-chairmen for Mrs. Williams' first official visit to Contra Costa County.

Representative John F. Baldwin and Mrs. Baldwin will also be honored guests at the breakfast.

Assisting Mrs. Young and Mrs. Krotz will be the following chairmen: Mesdames Charles O. Garrels and C. R. Hayden, Concord, arrangements; Donald Kientz, Pleasant Hill, tickets; Hugh G. Miller, Danville, hospitality; and Harold C. Bates, Lafayette, publicity.

Official hostesses are Mesdames J. W. Irvin, Alamo; Richard Pyle, Antioch; Stanley Koller, Crockett; Harold Gaunce and Jordan Hall, El Cerrito; William Freeman, Lafayette; Breck Harrison and R. L. Wilcox, Martinez; David Honegger, Oakley; Peter Bertoglio, Pittsburg; Donald Kientz and Tudor Jones, Walnut Creek; Misses Ardis Myhrs, Mary Lowden.

Republican women may call the members of the committee or the Republican headquarters in Lafayette for reservations.

Housing Bill Makes It Easy, Says Realtor

The newly-enacted federal housing bill will make home ownership easier for many prospective buyers this fall, Bill Hayward, president of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, said.

Many of the law's sections were endorsed or actively sought by the National Association of Real Estate Boards, to which the Contra Costa board belongs, Hayward said.

The main aid to home buyers is the bill's authorization for the Federal Housing Administration to insure up to $8 billion in new mortgage loans. This means FHA can quickly expand its mortgage insurance program which may help make more loans available in this tight money period.

FHA's recent decision to lift from 5¼ to 5¾ per cent the interest rate ceiling on FHA-insured mortgages for single family homes should also attract mortgage money, he added.

Another new incentive which the bill provides is the increase from $20,000 to $22,500 in the maximum single family mortgage which FHA is authorized to insure. With larger FHA-insured mortgages available Contra Costa Realtors will be able to offer a wider range of houses under the FHA insurance program, Hayward said.

New Registration Policy Deadline is October 17

Owners of vehicles which are not registered for the current year and which are left standing on any public street or highway must meet a new registration requirement added to the California Vehicle Code by a 1959 statute.

Robert McCarthy, director of motor vehicles, today alerted owners to an October 17 deadline for registration of such vehicles.

"The new law requiring vehicles parked or left standing on public streets and highways to be registered, whether they are operated during the current year or not, took effect on September 18, 1959," McCarthy said.

"From the date when registration becomes due, owners have 30 additional days in which to comply with the law. After October 17, the Department of Motor Vehicles will be obliged to collect penalties on delinquent registration fees, when application is made to any field office or through the mail.

"We are broadcasting this alert to enable motorists to avoid the extra cost of paying penalties due to ignorance of the law. Even though the vehicle left standing on a highway is not moved this year, it would be necessary to collect 1959 fees and penalties along with 1960 fees, if the application is not submitted until next year."

"The standing" vehicles affected by the law include passenger cars, trucks, trailers, semitrailers and dollies of all types. A technical exemption is made in the statute for vehicles owner by dealers in connection with loading and unloading operations in the dealer's business, unless prohibited by other laws.

Grand Jury Association Gets Program Started

The newly organized Grand Jury Association of Contra Costa County is shifting into high gear with a dinner meeting planned for the entire membership, plus prospective new members, October 28, 6:30 p.m., at Paul's in Martinez.

The board of directors met in Orinda recently and prepared extensive plans for the coming year.

This meeting was chaired by President B. A. Johnson, civic leader and former telephone manager in Richmond.

Compilation of all grand jury recommendations for the past 10 years will be started. Studies will be made to determine how many of these recommendations have been adopted by the county government.

Preps Enter Final Leg of Practice Games Tonight

All Varsity Games Under Lights; Experiments End

The local preps are heading into their final round of practice games tonight with a full round of play on tap.

Al varsity games this week will be played under the lights and it means that coaches will be in the final stages of experimentation and personnel shifting as they set their sights for next week's league openers, where the teams will be playing for keeps.

SPEAKING OF playing for keeps, the Pleasant Hill Rams have been doing pretty much that all season long as they have tagged three successive defeats on San Ramon, Acalanes and Piedmont in that order.

Tonight they are heavy favorites to topple the Las Lomas Knights, who have a relatively new squad, a new coach and a problem in the quarterback spot where injuries have forced quarterbacks Bob Stephenson and Doug Martin to the sidelines.

This has put the issue squarely up to Bob Morris, a junior in his first try at the grid game.

THE RAMS have only one player on the doubtful list in Dave Moore, who came up with an ankle sprain. Moore, who plays on the defensive unit, could be ready by game-time.

The power running of halfback Dave Shepherd and fullback Roger Faulk, plus the ball handling of Jim Maples at quarterback and the breakaway threat of halfback Tom Webb, poses defensive problems for the Knights.

Chances are the Knights will come out gambling as they have everything to win and not much to lose in this one.

HALFBACK JIM Sisler and fullback Mike Hair look to be the offensive guns for the Knights.

The Acalanes Dons host the Pacifica Spartans and while the invaders are undefeated and their opposition hasn't been as strong as expected, as the Dons won the opener over Alhambra only to drop the next two to Pleasant Hill and Diablo.

Acalanes coaches Bob Stevens and Buzz Williams have been busy mending their fences and that means personnel changes.

THE BIG change figures to be Tom Strain at left half with Tony LaRosa getting more work at fullback.

Dave Jones, who was one of the few to impress in the Diablo game, opens at right guard, while Steve Lientz opens at a flanker spot.

The Pacifica Spartans have lacked depth but have capitalized on breaks to come this far unbeaten. They have a top runner in fullback Bill Mattson, who also operates as a pass receiver.

OVER ORINDA WAY Coach Bob Brooks has announced that tackle Buddy Boeger will sit this one out, but should be ready for next week's play. Jim Boyd, a 185-pound senior, is the top choice to fill the spot.

The Matadors try their luck under the lights of Livermore Field and last Wednesday night practiced under the Acalanes arcs to get the feel of night ball.

Chances are it won't be enough experience gained to topple the Livermore Cowboys, who have ridden high, wide and handsome over their only three opponents to date.

THE MIRAMONTE picture is brightened considerably with the return of versatile Bruce Hancock, who is capable of playing several positions.

San Ramon, trimmed by Livermore last Friday, figures to hit the win column tonight while meeting Amador of Pleasanton.

The Pleasanton eleven hardly rates as an upset team, so the Wolves should really howl as they wind up their practice season.

Coach Bob Muenter, Piedmont's fiery mentor, has been working overtime with his charges, and doesn't feel so bad after reviewing the Pleasant Hill game films, which showed the Highlanders could have done much better by eliminating a few fundamental mistakes.

All hands came out of the Ram contest unscathed and ready to go.

PERSONNEL CHANGES have been the order rather than the exception, with George Conn going back to defensive tackle and Tom Reich, who has been at defensive left end, moving in to the linebacker spot.

Mike Miller, in turn, is set to go at left end, while Kenny White's shift to a linebacker spot and Craig Coakley's move to defensive wing makes things interesting.

The Clan is high despite their loss to the Rams and are setting their sights on first place in the Foothill Division.

Pleasant Hill Paces County Clubs; Knights Win, While Mats, Dons Bow

The Pleasant Hill Rams, paced by their hard-running backs — Roger Faulk, Dave Shepherd and Tom Webb — racked up their third win in a row last Friday night as they measured Piedmont, 26-13.

Piedmont, up to last week, had also been in the undefeated ranks.

THE RAMS struck early when Piedmont passed on the second play from scrimmage and Jim Maples intercepted to return it to the Clan's 40. The Rams drove deep in five plays, only to fumble and Piedmont recovered.

Ram tackle Walt Dathe got the pigskin back on the next play, however, when Piedmont dropped the ball. This time it was pay day as two plays put it on Piedmont's two, from where Faulk rammed it over tackle. The conversion boot was wide.

Piedmont threatened once in the first half but was stopped short by a determined Ram line.

RAM HALFBACK WEBB started the second half off with a brilliant 80-yard scoring run on the kickoff. This time Maples split the uprights to make it 13-0.

The score went to 20-0 in the third quarter as Maples climaxed an 80-yard drive with a 13-yard pass to Shepherd to put the ball on the one, and Maples took it over on a quarterback sneak.

Piedmont came back in a hurry, however, when the halfback John Pfeiffer took the kickoff on his own 13 and was sprung loose up the middle by some hard blocking to race to the score, and it was 20-7 as Hughes Crumpler made good on the conversion kick.

EACH TEAM SCORED six points in the final period as Pleasant Hill took the kickoff and used all 11 players to cover 60 yards with Maples crossing the goal line from three yards out.

Piedmont's final six came late in the last period when halfback Pete Jacobs raced around right end for the final eight yards.

St. Mary's Gets 4 of Best Prep Basketballers

St. Mary's College fell heir to four of last year's best prep basketballers and possibly the nucleus of a track team when Steve Gray, Vurdell Newsome, Kit Ruona and Tom Sheridan accepted scholarships to the Moraga campus.

Gray, a 6.4 forward, was given All-American acclaim while cavorting for George Washington High School of San Francisco. He was also named Northern California Player of the Year, All Northern California, All Metropolitan, and All City.

NEWSOME, A SACRAMENTO High School graduate, is 6.1 and can play either guard or forward. He was selected All Northern California, third string; All Inland Empire, first string, and All League.

Vurdell maintained a "B" average throughout high school.

Ruona, last year's most valuable player in the Peninsula League, is a 6.1 guard. Kit was a third string All Northern California selection and a first string All North Coaster.

WHILE ATTENDING Cappuchino High School, Kit was a campus leader. He was president of the Block "C," treasurer of the Boys Association, sports editor of the newspaper and had a role in the school play.

All Catholic and All Catholic Athletic League honors belong to Sheridan, who scored over 900 points during his four varsity basketball seasons at Oakland's St. Elizabeth's High School.

This amazing athlete competed in baseball and track in addition to basketball. He qualified for the state track meet in the broad jump.

TOM WAS A HIGH school leader, serving as freshman class treasurer and senior class president. Tom belonged to the Block "SE" club, and student council.

Oddly enough, St. Mary's, which does not have a track team, got four athletes who have made a name for themselves in track and field circles.

Gray hold the George Washington High School high jump record at 6 ft. 4 in. Newsome ran the 880 for two varsity seasons at Sacramento. Ruona was the Peninsula League's best miler during his junior year. Sheridan has a 22 ft. 6 in. St. Elizabeth's School record, broad jump to his credit.

Bob Muenter, Piedmont, Sees Big Things for Scots

By ERWIN MATTSON

Robert Muenter, better known as Bob, is the likable mentor of the Piedmont Highlanders where he has established a reputation for his highly polished and smooth functioning football team.

Bob was a star athlete in his own high school days when he prepped at St. Ignatius High in San Francisco.

HE RECEIVED ALL-City honors in football as a tackle and center as well as playing on the basketball team as a guard in addition to tossing the shot and discus.

On graduation he entered and played football for the University of San Francisco. The war was on and it changed life for him in many ways as he joined the Marine V-12 program and was sent to the College of Pacific for training.

It was here that he really blossomed out as a guard and then was moved to fullback on a team that ranked seventh in the nation. Coaches of that team were the venerable Alonzo Stagg with Larry Siemering as his assistant.

IN 1945 WHEN he was released from the service he met and married Jean Heath, a country girl from Hanford, who had moved to San Francisco.

In 1945 he went back to St. Ignatius as a line coach and then moved to St. Mary's College as an assistant to Joe Verducci in 1948.

He went from there to Piedmont High where he has been coaching the past years as head football mentor in addition to coaching field events in track and Bee basketball.

He is a football "red hot" who eats, sleeps, and I suspect dreams about the game 24 hours a day during the on as well as off season.

ENTHUSIASM IS A good one word description of capable Bob, who is always hustling and gets the same action from his players.

Bob has two football candidates of his own in Craig, 10, and Todd, 7. Bob and his family reside at 25 Kola Court in Walnut Creek.

Olde Professor Practicing for Grand Slam Picks

Up to now it has been pretty much of a practice session with the Olde Prof. He has attempted to pick 'em, but with the league playing opening next week, he is bearing down and concentrating harder than ever.

Here goes for a "red hot" week with a number of choice picks from the Olde Prof.

Acalanes plays Pacifica at home. the invaders are undefeated while the Dons won their opener then dropped a pair. The Dons are ready for this one and its the first home night game of the season so take the Dons 19-7.

Pleasant Hill travels to Walnut Creek and the Knights promise to be a tougher nut to crack than most expect. Quarterback troubles hamper the Knights while the Rams are loaded and hungry. Pleasant Hill a winner 26-7.

San Ramon smarting from a defeat at the hands of the Livermore Cowboys ram back with a vengeance as they will win 35-6. The six comes when San Ramon plays the reserves. The victim: Amador High of Pleasanton.

Miramonte plays their first night game and its at Livermore. The Matadors get gored again — this time 28-6.

Diablo High is undefeated and stays that way as they nail the Tracy Bulldogs 20-12.

In Collegiate circles Cal is once again in over their heads. Notre Dame comes to Cal and registers a 21-7 win. Notre Dame is not the best, but they have too much talent for a Cal eleven that has problems when all hands are well, let alone when they are wounded.

Stanford played their game last week, this week they lose to Washington at Seattle 20-19.

College of the Pacific has more trouble as they drop a 20-7 game to Washington State.

Muhlenberg incidentally is on the move as they down Temple 30-16. Oregon nails San Jose 20-6 while Northwestern drops Minnesota 20-13.

A sure bet — Rutgers over Colgate 20-14 and after last week the 49ers over WHOEVER they play.

Contra Costa Golfers Vie Next Friday Against Pros

Contra Costa golfers will have 10 days, starting next Friday, to compete in the first annual statewide golf tournament honoring the memory of Babe Didrikson Zaharias, Don Doten, county chairman, announced today.

The tournament will culminate October 25, when all those entering will be eligible to watch an exhibition match at Harding Park Golf Course in San Francisco, in which Ken Venturi, Jackie Pung, Harvie Ward and James Garner of "Maverick" fame, will play.

Tickets to the tournament may be obtained from any one of nine golf clubs in the county at $2 each.

Ken Venturi, for the men, and Jackie Pung, for the women, will be the pros to beat. Scores racked up by these two champs on the final day of the tournament will set the standard for all coastside golfers from Monterey County to the Oregon line.

County Chairman Doten said all proceeds will go to the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Memorial Fund of the American Cancer Society. Local players whose net scores beat the champs will receive inscribed awards.

Anyone is eligible to play in the tournament, since handicap scores will be used, and golfers without established handicaps will be rated by the Calloway system. Contestants may enter as many times as they like, posting their lowest scores in the competition.

Entry tickets may be obtained now at any of the following Contra Costa clubs:

Orinda Country Club, Contra Costa Country Club, Richmond Golf Club, Tilden Park Golf Club, Pittsburg Golf and Country Club, Meadowbrook Golf Club, Antioch Golf Club, Mira Vista Country Club and Diablo Country Club.

But, Partner, We Could Have Made Four Spades . .

By ROD ERNST

"But, partner, we could have made four spades." How many times have you played a hand in three no-trump perhaps going down one or two when you and your partner each held four spades (or four hearts.)

Experience has proved in most cases that the hands will play better in the suit contract than in no-trump since losing cards may be trumped and the opponents cannot run any long suits of their own. This situation frequently occurs when the bidding has been opened with one no-trump.

There is a convention widely used by duplicate players whcih allows you to find the "four-four" fit after a one no-trump opener. It is called the "Stayman convention."

After the bidding is opened with one no-trump, the responder may sometimes want to know the answer to some of the following questions — Does the no-trump hand contain a four card major suit? If so, which, or both majors? Lacking a four card major, was the opening bid a minimum or maximum no trump?

To ask these questions, the responder bids two clubs after his partner has opened with one no-trump.

This two club bid is artificial; does not by any means show a club suit, and is absolutely forcing on opener to bid once more. It is not a force to game, however!

A minimum of seven points is needed by responder to bid two clubs.

Over your two club response, the opener will now show you his four card major suit if he has one. Suposing he bids two spades and you have four card support for him.

Your next bid, then, is simply three spades with seven or eight points or four spades if you have nine to thirteen points.

Over your four spade bid, opener is obligated to pass, since the combined holdings cannot add up to a slam. However, if you bid three spades, opener can pass if he holds a minimum no-trump opener or bid four with a maximum.

One further point should be mentioned in this brief review of the "Stayman convention." If responder simply raises the opener in no-trump, he says, "Partner, I do not hold a four-card major suit."

The discerning reader will see that there are some situations that I have not covered. In next week's column, I will endeavor to cover the rest of this convention.

Governor Lauds Bold New Action In Fish, Game

A new five-year wildlife conservation plan submitted by Director William E. Warne has been adopted by Governor Edmund G. Brown.

The plan is designed to increase some existing fish and wildlife species, introduce others, and give added protection against encroaching civilization to other wildlife resources.

"The plan is a bold, new effort to meet the growing needs of our great and growing State," Governor Brown commented.

"It was promulgated by the new and vigorous leadership we now have in the Department of Fish and Game. It is an action program with great vision and practicality."

Liyermore Downs San Ramon, 13-6

San Ramon Wolves met their nemesis last Friday night when a disappointed home crowd saw them dropped by the visiting Livermore Cowboys, 13-6.

Livermore, undefeated in their first two starts, showed why they are favorites to cop the East Bay Division title as they displayed a stout line plus some good backs.

Livermore did their scoring in the first half, with quarterback Rich Rochin hitting on a pass for one touchdown and scoring the other on a one-yard sneak.

SAN RAMON, PLAYING in spurts, failed to capitalize on several scoring situations—once going to Livermore's two-yard line before running out of gas.

The Wolves did get going in the fourth quarter when they covered 63 yards in 12 plays to score.

Halfback Bruce Weiss set the stage with a 20-yard end run and an 18-yard pass from quarterback Casey Evans to end Bill Langridge brought the ball to the one. Evans then sneaked over for the tally.

Dons Lose to Diablans, 12-6

The Acalanes Dons, playing at a low ebb, were repulsed by the Diablo Devils last Friday night in a game played under the Concord lights.

Diablo wound up with a 12-6 win by stopping the Dons with two first downs and a meager 61 yards, while rolling up 237 yards and 10 first downs of their own.

Diablo scored first after blocking a Don punt and recovering on the Acalanes 13. A run at the line made a yard, and the touchdown came on a 12-yard pass from quarterback Eddie Johnson to end Hugh Brown.

IN THE THIRD quarter the Devils' halfback, Bill Nelson, scored from two yards out after a drive that started when Diablo recovered a fumble on the Dons' 27.

Acalanes got its one and only score in the fourth quarter when center Geoff Picard pounced on a loose ball on the Diablo 18.

It paid off when quarterback Don Nelson hit end Steve Lientz in the end zone for six points three plays later.

Miramonte Drops Third Straight

The Albany Cougars proved to be a bit untamed as far as the Miramonte Matadors were concerned last Friday afternoon when they clawed and mauled the Orindans, 26-0, scoring touchtowns in each of the quarters.

The first score came when Albany's tackle, Don Cannon, grabbed a Matador fumble in the air and rambled 68 yards.

A 48-yard drive climaxed by a final 10-yard burst by halfback Bill Brown with 40 seconds to go in the half produced touchdown number two.

Brown hit again in the third quarter on a 14-yard crack at left tackle, and in the final period quarterback John Lowell made it on an option from 48 yards out.

Knights Defeat Alhambra, 7-0

Las Lomas hit the win column last week when the Knight's ace fullback, Mike Hair, scored the game's only touchdown to drop the Alhambra Bulldogs, 7-0.

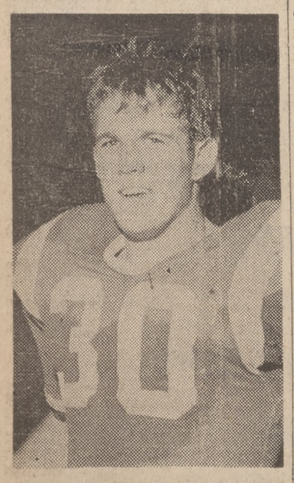
It marked the second win in a row for the Knights, who had dumped John Swett of Crockett, 33-0, the previous week.

THE KNIGHTS SCORED early, getting their tally in the opening quarter when they took the opening kickoff with Hair taking the ball 14 yards to Alhambra's 40.

Eight plays brought it to the home team's eight from where Hair cracked left tackle for the necessary yardage. Quarterback Bob Morris split the uprights on his placement kick for what proved to be the game's final scoring.

The Knights threatened several other times, but crucial mistakes, including fumbles and pass interceptions, stopped them short.

Faulk Named Week's Star



ROGER FOULK
Prep of Week

Roger Faulk who is pictured as the player of the week is one of the pride and joys of Pleasant Hill.

He carries 193 pounds well on his 6'2" frame and his football prowess has been proven by the fact he has made All League fullback in the Contra Costa Division of the DVAL last year.

He looks to be a repeat on the basis of his play to date.

A senior at Ramsville, he is rated as one of the top power runners in the Bay Area.

Gael Water Polo Team on Rise

College water polo team met California Maritime Academy in their first home stand of the season Wednesday night in the campus pool.

With only five returning lettermen on the roster, the Gael squad lost a narrow 10-9 decision to Santa Clara in the season's opener last Wednesday at Santa Clara. This Bronco team was the same squad that drowned the Gaels 23-6 last year.

Rounding out the squad are freshmen Bernie Caughlin, forward, San Pedro; center back Frank Healy, San Rafael; forwards Arum Ormsby, Oakland, and Doug Lorimer, Sonora; goalie Jerry Sincich, Oakland; sophomores John Husing, forward from Pleasant Hill, forwards Jerry Des Jardines, San Andreas, and Ken Dougherty, Tarzana; center back Pat Shechy, Salinas; guard Frank Tamavo, Los Angeles; and guard Phil Spazek, Santa Monica.

Coach Dick Clark, senior from Lafayette, has whipped his charges into a fine organization that is expected to improve greatly on last season's record.

The remainder of the schedule is:

Late Blooming Perennials Require Care in October

October is a busy month in the perennial garden—or should be.

Late blooming perennials such need care to keep them blooming. as chrysanthemum and asters. Those that bloomed earlier may need dividing. And new ones that would bloom next year, should go in from nursery flats pronto.

THE CALIFORNIA Association of Nurserymen reports that seedlings of such favorites as delphiniums, columbine and primrose should be planted now to give them a chance to establish before winter stops them short. The earlier they go in, the earlier and more profusely they will bloom next spring.

As to what needs dividing among those already in the ground, figure it this way:

If clumps are crowded and blooms seemed smaller or less spectacular this year than last, they need it. And it's not hard to tell.

TALL GARDEN phlox, for instance, get pretty ragged in their third or fourth year after planting. Primroses bloom on shorter stems and with less vigor in the individual bloom.

On the other hand, there are perennials such as the basket of gold alyssum which do not divide. You can tell simply by checking the base of a perennial's main stem to see if it is single or crowded with multiple growth.

To prepare a bed for your new plantings—those you divide as well as those you set out from nursery flats—dip deeply.

WE'VE HEARD it said that the primary reason gardeners fail to grow exhibition perennials in California is that they don't get them off to the right start. One expert we know wouldn't think of setting out delphinium without first preparing a bed of at least 18 inches deep.

Work steer manure into the soil as well as bone meal which will yield a slow kick over a long time. Adequate humus material is needed for proper soil texture. It insures both easy penetration by water plus retention of same without lending itself to waterlogging.

Give a little extra effort at planting time and we guarantee you won't regret it next blooming season.

Bike Taken; Sun's Ad Is Sleuth

Bob Dilling of 2922 Vessing Road, Walnut Creek, turned to The Sun classifieds, when his bike disappeared during a Pleasant Hill High School football game.

Bob had worked 150 hours cutting lawns and tending dogs, earning enough money to buy the bike, and it was not only the "apple of his eye" but absolutely necessary for transportation.

Bob's Sun classified ad ran five times for the price of one insertion, appearing in the Sun Shopping News, a free distribution paper in the central county.

It also automatically ran in the Walnut Creek Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun, Lafayette Sun and Orinda Sun.

And in no time at all, Bob received a call from David Cleveland of Bonnie Lane, who found the bike in a field near the high school.

Now, Bob has his bike back.

And The Sun chalks up another of hundreds of "success stories" which are phoned into our office every week!

Dramateurs Will Hold Workshop

The Dramateurs will be presenting an interesting workshop at their next monthly meeting, which is to be held at the Town Hall in Lafayette Monday at 8 p.m.

The general public is invited.

It's Planting Time For Spring Bulbs and Holly

Here is what gardeners in the area should be doing this week:

The main flood of spring bulbs has hit the market and should go in this month. That means it's planting time for daffodils, tulips, hyacinths.

Hurry with the lesser bulbs. Dutch iris, grape hyacinth, freesias, sparaxis and ixias make early growth and therefore need early planting.

Plan ahead for holiday color. Plant holly and other berried shrubs now.

Brighten bare spots in the garden by sinking a few gallon cans of blooming chrysanthemums in the ground.

Replace tuberous begonias as they may go out of bloom with blooming pots of cyclamen. They will carry color well into spring.

Mary Stuart Begins Monday At Curran

S. Hurok will present the National Phoenix Theatre production of "Mary Suart" starring Eva LeGallienne and Signe Hasso at the Curran Theatre for two weeks, opening Monday evening.

"Mary Suart" is a romantic drama of the conflict between two mighty queens—Elizabeth of England and Mary of Scotland — written by one of the world's most famous poet-playwrights, Frederick Schiller.

The play, which has served as the vehicle for many of the world's most famous stars, covers the final period in the life of the beautiful Mary, Queen of the Scots, after she had sought refuge in England and was imprisoned for treason.

Eva LeGallienne as Elizabeth crowns a career of years as America's only woman star-producer-director.

Head of her own Civic Repertory Company in New York, she presented many of the classics and is noted as an interpreter of Ibsen.

Signe Hasso, beautiful Swedish star, world-famous film star, plays the fate-driven Mary, the role which made her a dramatic stage star in Europe.

Church Confab Will Concern World Peace

A Peace Education Seminar, sponsored by the Northern California - Nevada Council of Churches will be held today and tomorrow at the Hillcrest Congregational Church, Pleasant Hill.

General topic will be the churches' concern for peace and international relations, according to Rev. James Higgins.

Dr. Kenneth Maxwell, of the National Council of Churches will begin the sessions today at 1:30 p.m. with a talk on "Basic International Issues."

Dr. Theodore Gill, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, will lead discussion on "Theological and Moral Considerations in International Relations."

Dr. Book was Among First Ministers of Education

The old days, when folks just went to church, heard two hours of good old fashioned fist-pounding oratory from the pulpit and then trudged home without another word of instruction or guidance are gone.

The people needed something more.

That need was answered by men such as Dr. Abbott Book, who recently was installed as the new executive director of the Central County Council of Churches.

THE AMIABLE, balding doctor in his youth was among the first of the new breed of "ministers of Christian education."

He told The Sun, "The minister of education, my job for 27 years, was to church education as a principal is to a school, and he has the job of administering the program and securing and training church teachers, especially Sunday school teachers."

Dr. Book followed this star for 11 years before he was ordained, and for 16 years afterwards before becoming executive director of the Northern California-Nevada Council of Churches.

His move to Walnut Creek enabled Rev. Irvin Askine to retire from the job for health reasons. Rev. Askine has been elected executive director-emeritus.

"IN FORMER days you didn't have to have a theology degree, as they do now, to be minister of education, Dr. Book recalled.

"I educated them in Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Elgin, Ill.; Cincinnati, Ohio; and Oklahoma City, before my ordination and a new post at the Union Avenue Christian Church in St. Louis, Mo., where I stayed for 16 years."

Even as the church began to establish its instruction classes for the young and the very young, new problems arose.

Children four years old, five years, seven years and 10 years old are different specimens. They don't understand at the same rate, and on the same level.

SAID DR. Book, "I originated the expanded session of the Sunday school in St. Louis.

"After that they were grouped according to ages and grades, and it is easier for the teachers to hold their attention. And this instruction became more important as the years went on.

"Let me tell you why.

"Parents in my early years ruled their homes, and conducted their own Christian education of the children.

"BUT NOT SO many of them do it any more. It all goes with the trend of less parental direction and guidance. The church has had to teach the children about the church, or many of them would be taught very little."

Educated at Highland Park College, Des Moines, Iowa, and at the Boston University School of Religious Education and Social Service. Dr. Book also has two honorary doctorates, one from Chapman College, Los Angeles, 1947, and the other from Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, 1957.

His father was Rev. William L. Book, a Plymouth, Indiana, minister, and like both father and son were born on Virginia soil.

The change from the education work to directorship to a church council seemed natural, Dr. Book continued.

THE CENTRAL county council has about 30 churches on its list, and recently added the Lafayette Christian Church.

The council hopes to unite its churches in a realization of a common goal.

IN ITS 10 years has initiated a department of Evangelism, department of Christian Education, ministerial psychiatric counseling, a chaplaincy program, which extends to the juvenile hall, county jail, and to the area hospitals.

Cooperative church work is the key. B tetrersuelllte ETAOINN key. Better results is the motive.

Youth Concert Blanks Into Mail This Week

This week past subscribers of the Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts will be receiving in the mail, subscription blanks for the 1960 concert series.

A series of four concerts will be presented to the Central Contra Costa Youth Concert season ticket holders.

THE CONCERT series will begin January 17 with the music of the San Francisco Symphony.

Alec Templeton, world-famous musician, satirist and composer will present his concert on February 6. On March 6, the Laubins, students of Indian culture, will present their beautiful authentic Indian dances.

The Roger Wagner Chorale will sing for the Youth Concert audience, April 3.

The sale of tickets will be open to the general public from October 5 through October 16. Ticket orders will be received in the order of their postmark.

SUBSCRIBERS will receive their tickets if they do have their check returned to them by November 2.

Last year the demand for tickets was extremely heavy. There are a limited number of tickets available.

Tickets will be mailed out January 4, unless the purchaser requests the tickets for Christmas gifts.

THE CONCERTS are designed to be enjoyed by children and their parents together. Children attending the program alone miss one of the real advantages of this type of series.

The programs are designed in content and length for the grammar school level.

However, parents can best judge the ability of their children under eight to absorb and appreciate these beginning concerts.

The price of the season ticket is $3.50 for adult or child. The concerts are one hour in length. They are held on Sunday afternoons at 2:30 p.m. at Las Lomas High School Auditorium.

For further information, write Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts, Post Office Box 83, Walnut Creek, or phone Mrs. George Gessling.

Huller Says 'Bye' When Run in Sun

Mrs. W. R. Lesnick of 1410 Lesnick Lane, Walnut Creek, sold a walnut huller "complete with powered sorting table and hull conveyor" for $400 with only one classified ad insertion in The Sun.

D. K. Hill of 24 Crest Avenue, sold heavy drapes, draw drapes, six pairs hanging drapes, poles, rings and brackets with one Sun ad.

One Sun ad, which automatically ran in the free-distribution Sun Shopping News and the Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun and Orinda Sun also did the job for:

J. Behr of 175 Canon Drive, Orinda, a Hoffman combination television; R. W. Mairs of 510 Masefield Drive, Pleasant Hill, two shotguns; I. H. Erickson of 1364 Rudgear Road, Walnut Creek, Chihuahua puppies; Mrs. W. M. Allcorn of 605 Huntleigh of Lafayette, boy's English bicycle.

These are only a very few of the hundreds of "success stories" which develop from each edition of the Sun's classified page.

You can be sure of success when you place a minimum rate $1.60 ad, allowing 14 words appearing in all five Sun papers.

Cub Leaders Plan Pow Wow And Noon Meal

Cub Scout leaders, men and women, from all over the county, Berkeley and Albany, will take part in a "pow wow" at the Diablo Valley College, Pleasant Hill, Oct. 17, according to John S. Youmans, director of training of Mt. Diablo Council.

Under the direction of Dr. Robert B. Jackson and Mrs. Leslie Lopez, both of Concord, a pow wow committee has been preparing for several weeks.

William Hodges, Richmond, leadership training chairman of the San Pablo bay district, has arranged for a noon "blue and gold" dinner as a demonstration of the typical Cub Pack observance of Boy Scout Week in February.

The meal will be served by the Relief Society Women of the Pleasant Hill Latter Day Saints Church.

Instruction at the pow wow will be given in four sections—games, handicraft, stunts — skits — ceremonies, and pack administration.

In the games section Cub leaders spend two hours in the morning, and another two hours in the afternoon learning how to play and direct quiet indoor games, gathering time games, tricks and puzzles, relay races, and dual contests.

This section will be directed by Mrs. Joyce Ferrante and Mrs. Nina Ferrando, of the Concord district.

The stunts—skits — ceremonies section is planned to teach adults how to capture the imagination of boys; how to bring to life the Cub Scouting ideals; how to make simple adventure more meaningful—with more fun.

John Shaw, of Martinez, is chairman of this section. He is assisted by Mrs. Thelma Wheeler.

Light Opera Workshop

The Acalanes Adult Center announced the opening of a "Light Opera Workshop," a weekly class to be offered at Las Lomas High School on Thursday evenings from 8:30-10:30.

The workshop will be directed by Las Lomas High School choral director James Schwartz.

Rehearsals are now under way on the "Pirates of Penzance." Schwartz asked that persons interested in solo work or chorus work contact him

Double Sessions In County Down, 15,000 to 3000

Double sessions in Contra Costa County schools has dwindled to 3371 children in the lower elementary grades, compared to a peak of nearly 15,000 in 1949, according to county superintendent of schools Floyd Marchus.

The figure is down slightly from last September's 3552. It will be further reduced as schools now under construction are occupied.

Marchus said the chief reason for the reduction in double session is the construction of additional schools. Where there were 91 schools in Contra Costa County in 1949, there are now 167.

Another reason for the reduction is the leveling off of enrollment growth in the past few years except in areas where residential construction continues high.

Six school districts are operating double session classes for some children in lower grades as follows: Danville Union, 244; Mt. Diablo Unified, 1103; Orinda Union, 662; Pinole-Hercules Union 629; Richmond, 242; and Walnut Creek, 491.

Carbert Again Will Head Taxpayers

Dr. L. E. Carbert of Pleasant Hill was re-elected president of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association.

Former Mayor of Richmond Ed J. J. McKeegan was re elected treasurer and E. L. Slagle of Danville was elected vice president.

Three vacancies of the board of directors were filled by D. M. Teeter of El Cerrito, former county administrator; William Walden of Martinez, manager of the Martinez branch of the Bank of California; and W. G. Davis of Pittsburg, assistant superintendent of the U.S. Steel Corporation.

The new officers and directors took office yesterday.

Broadway Shops Open 2 Nights

Stores in the Broadway Shopping Center are open two nights a week every week, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Stores in the center are open on Monday and Friday nights so that the whole family will have plenty of time to go shopping, Webster added.

Broadway's Birthday Fete Features Many Top Events

"The birthday party which will be remembered for many a year to come gets underway with a bang at the Broadway Shopping Center, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

"The birthday all 54 stores in the center will be celebrating is Broadway's own birthday and there will be a multitude of events to make Broadway's birthday a real success," Webster added.

Included in the birthday celebration are a Needle in the Haystack contest, a concert by the famous Guckenheimer Sourkraut German Band and refreshments will be served free of charge in the center.

The traditional birthday cake will also be distributed free of charge to visitors, Webster commented.

The top prize in the Needle in the Haystack contest is a television set and there will be a present given away every minute of the contest, Webster continued.

The Guckenheimer band will appear at the center October 16 from 7 to 9 p.m. and the refreshments will be passed out as the band plays, the manager asserted.

The Needle in the Haystack event will be October 23 and 24 and tickets to participate in the event will be handed out at all participating stores, Webster concluded.

New Parking Area Opened At Broadway

There's never a need to worry about parking in the Broadway Shopping Center, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

New parking spaces have been added behind Grodins on the property formerly housing the McDonnell Nursery, he said.

"This will add even more parking spaces to the 2000 which are already available at the center," Webster added.

"Peak hour parking is never a problem either," he continued, "When one area fills up there are a number of others to choose from.

"It's never a problem to park in the Broadway Shopping Center no matter what the time of day or what special event is going on.

"Broadway's developers were quick to see the need for adequate parking and have filled these needs. New parking areas are always being added as the center grows each month," Webster concluded.

Tailor-Look Gets Into All Fashions

With the tailored look prominent in fall fashion, suits have a good chance to get in the spotlight, and they take it, most impressively.

Longer jackets — mid-hip or longer—are the suit newsmakers. While styles and fabrics may be mannish, the feminine influence clearly shows in the soft shaping of belted jackets and in face-flattering fur trims for unfitted jackets. Elongated cutaway styles reflect the Continental look.

THE WALKING suit makes a return apeparance, acquiring distinctive fall '59 airs through the increased use of fur trims, fur or pile jacket linings and even-longer jacket lengths.

Chanel influence carries on, in easy, slightly-longer suit jackets and new uses for braid trims, brass buttons.

Demit-fitted suits, briefly jacketed, appear in significant numbers. This is a silhouette and jacket length that is most becoming to a great many women who will choose it, wisely, in preference to the longer-jacketed fall suits.

Wide collars and lapels, open necklines, yoke detailing, widened shoulders and sometimes a hint of leg-o-muttoning for the jacket sleeves reflect fashion's trend to top of the silhouette interest. Many suits come with their own blouses, matched to jacket linings.

Discreet textures, menswear worsteds and flannels and lightweight tweeds are favored suit fabric choices.

Come Help Light Broadway's Birthday Cake

Here's How to Have Fun: Play Needle in Haystack

Needle in the haystack, one of the key attractions of the Broadway Birthday party, is one of the most fascinating and rewarding games ever to be brought to the central county area, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

The game is fun and it's easy to play, Webster explained.

Here's how it works:

Thousands of dulled needles will be placed in a haystack. Any person who pulls out a needle, which changes color when it is dipped into a special solution, wins a prize and there will be a prize a minute, Webster added.

The top prize will be a television set and there will be thousands of other fine prizes, Webster commented.

"After the person with the needle, which has changed color, steps over to the Broadway Board of Gifts, they dip into the treasure chest and pull out a sealed envelop.

"In it will be instructions indicating the prize and what store it is in," Webster noted.

"It's easy and fun, tickets to participate in the Broadway Needle in the Haystack are available at all participating stores.

"Don't forget tickets will be available all during the Broadway Birthday celebration. The needle in a haystack event will be in full swing October 23 and October 24," Webster concluded.

Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know the identifying features of the game you intend to hunt.

Free Cake, Drinks at Birthday

Refreshments, all free of charge, will be served during the Broadway Shopping Center's Birthday Party October 16, according to Betty Batesole, member of the Broadway Birthday Committee.

Three locations will be serving delicious birthday cake, coffee and chocolate milk from 7 until 9 p.m.

In addition to the three locations serving refreshments, there will be the music of the famous Guckenheimer Sourkraut German Band.

The refreshments will be served in front of the Lucky Food Store, in front of Anita Shop and in front of the Broadway Pharmacy.

Needle in Haystack Gives Party Goers Added Bonus

Visitors to the Broadway Birthday celebration will get an added bonus when they dig out special needles in a giant haystack which will be located in front of the Lucky Food Store in Broadway, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

The Needle in a Haystack will be October 23 and 24, but tickets for the event will be available at all Broadway stores during the entire birthday celebration, Webster said.

Only visitors to the celebration who are over 16 years of age will be eligible to play the fascinating game, Webster noted.

"There will be a prize given away every minute and the top prize will be a television set," Webster declared.

The Broadway Birthday party will also feature a performiance by the famous Guckenheimer Sauerkraut German Concert Band on October 16 from 7 to 9 p.m. and traditional birthday cake and refreshments will be served free of charge during the concert.

Free merry-go-round rides will also be featured during the birthday festival.

All Coats Get New Styles

Fall topcoats and overcoats feature an unbeatable parley, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear — truly good looks and warmth without weight.

In line with the current trend to more sensible lengths in men's coats, most new models are about an inch or so shorter. This does not mean a loss of warmth—just greater freedom of movement and more comfort and convenience.

CONTINENTAL models stand out, in both dressy and casual treatments.

These include single and double breasted styles with set-in sleeves for business and dress-up wear, and short, single-breasted, easy-fitting models with split raglan sleeves, cuff straps and railroad stitching for casual wear.

The split raglan sleeve, more popular than ever, appears to have set-in sleeves at the front of the shoulders and raglan sleeves at the back.

The ivy models include trim, slightly fitted, fly-front chesterfield models in cheviots and tweeds, as well as the classic full-bodied raglan balmacaans with their stand-up military collars.

ANOTHER IVY favorite that is constantly growing in popularity, is the short warm or, as it is sometimes called, the British warm. This double-breasted short coat, which is modeled after the English army officers' coat, comes in tweeds and dark tones as well as in its original taupe shade.

While on the subject of double-breasted coats, there has been a revival of interest in an old favorite. This is the generously proportioned ulsterette.

Shorter in length than the typical ulster style, this good looking coat has the same large sweeping collar, the patch pockets and the cuffed sleeves.

The belt in the back—needlessly bulky and not contributing to driving comfort—has been eliminated from the new ulsterettes.

COLORFUL TWEEDS, sleek meltons, handsome covert clothes, tough long-wearing gabardines and luxurious cashmeres are just some of the current topcoat and overcoat fabrics.

Many topcoats come with zip-in warmers or can be provided with them. But, last year's severe winter has rekindled a lot of interest in the overcoat which has been made lighter in weight and warmer than ever.

Treat every gun with respect due a loaded gun. This is the first rule of gun safety.

Famed OOM-PAH-PAHists Will Highlight Birthday

In June, RCA Victor Records unleashed upon an unsuspecting world a long-playing record album bearing the succinct title of "Music for Non-Thinkers," and featuring the Guckenheimer Sauerkraut Band, which will play at the Broadway Birthday Party October 16 , 7 to 9 p.m.

The Guckenheimers, nine men strong, are a study in San Francisco "firsts." But unlike the earthquake and the Gold Rush of '49 there isn't the slightest indication from the Guckenheimers that they will pass from the Golden Gate scene.

WRONG THINKERS to the contrary, an unusual number of normally upright citizens have taken the band's quaintly sour Bavarian melodies to heart, and the enthusiasm of these good burghers bids fair to immortalize Fritz Guckenheimer's unique interpretation of German folk music.

Bearing in mind this healthy interest in anti-egghead music, it will be well to note several important facts about the Guckenheimers and their activities.

The whole thing began back in 1948 when Richard Gump, head of the world famed Gump's store in San Francisco, lamented the fact that the celebration of Christmas was considerably marred by the inroads of commercialism. Gump (an artist, author, serious composer, and highly successful businessman) heard vociferous agreement from several other citizens of Sausalito.

AND IN A surprisingly short time an impromptu German band appeared on street corners throughout the Bay Area. They played a little Wagner, a little Strauss, a little Bach, and a little off-key. What the band lacked in harmonic precision it made up for in enthusiasm. And the bandsmen were as surprised as the San Franciscans to find that everyone from toddlers to greying grandmas bounced to their fractured Teutonic beat.

Thus were the Guckenheimers born.

The band needed a name.

During a meeting that can only loosely be described as a rehearsal session, businessman Gump was inspired to heist the "Guckenheimer" appellation from the label of a nearby whiskey bottle. Gump found an alter ego in the character of Fritz Guckenheimer, kappelmeister extraordinary, and the band was officially launched.

Gump can drop into the personality of Guckenheimer at the drop of a tuba note, and describes the band's efforts as "typical German vilage band music." And so it is.

Volunteers To Sponsor Conference

The Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County with the Oakland Junior Leaue will sponsor a conference, "Community Needs and Opportunities for Volunteers," October 15 at 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon at Walnut Creek Council Hall, 1445 Civic Drive.

The panel will include Mrs. Harmon Howard, Walnut Creek's first woman police commissioner, who will be moderator and will speak on the Community Welfare Council.

Mrs. Howard's experience includes service as past president of the Oakland Junior League Children's Hosital board member; originator of the Christmas Bureau; founder of the Diablo Junior Museum; and her recent work in behalf of the John Muir Hospital.

MISS HETTY Johnson, title consultant in special education and principal of the Shadelands Cerebral Palsy School, will speak in the educational field.

Miss Johnson has done summer work for the San Francisco State College in teacher training for mentally retarded and orthopedically handicapped and as an extension instructor for training teachers for the handicapped.

Mrs. Ruth Wallis will discuss opportunities for volunteers in recreation. Mrs. Wallis is Walnut Creek director of recreation and chairman of Bay Area recreation executives and president of California State Recreational Society, District III.

Mrs. Wallis formerly was recreation director of the Los Angeles Juvenile Hall and chief director of the Los Angeles Recreation Department.

Opportunities for volunteers in the cultural fields of art, music and library work will be covered by Mrs. G. E. Max, local artist.

Mrs. Max is a member of the board of the Valley Art Center and has taught classes in the children's program with the Cooperative Art Association.

Mrs. Duncan Knudsen of Lafayette will speak as director of the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County.

She is also a board member of the Children's Hospital and former head of the Adult Educational Committee of the Stanley School.

The purpose of this conference is to acquaint Junior League provisionals, organizations, volunteers, with opportunities to serve.

Scout Leaders Hear Boys Who Toured World

"California looks good to me," were words that summarized Explorer Scout Derek Knudsen's report given at the Mt. Diablo Council Boy Scout executive board dinner meeting held at Spengers, September 30.

Knudsen was one of 90 scouts of the United States who made a 'Round The World tour in conjunction with the National Scout Jamboree, held in the Philippines last summer.

"In ports around the globe," he said, "I found friends, and our association stands out as a most memorable experience of my 25,000 mile journey."

Other Mt. Diablons participating were Ted Ball of Richmond, Lynn Rolston, Walnut Creek, and Peter Noble, of Lafayette.

Some 55 members attended the business meeting, which was presided over by Justice A. F. Bray, Council President.

Goals for an increase of 50 new units were presented by Frank Hodges, of Antioch, chairman of the new units committee.

"Fifteen units, he said, are in the process of organization and others will be organized following completion of a survey of institutional needs now being conducted throughout the council."

Mort Schaffran of El Cerrito was introduced as chairman of the Charter Review Committee, whose responsibility is the systematic reviewing of the applications for use of the Boy Scout program by those requesting it.

Reports were given by representatives of all six operating committees. They included advancement, E. W. Thrall, Berkeley; camping, Jo Shockey; leadership training, Edward M. Read; health and safety, Dr. Ralph Kirk; (all three of Concord). Finance, Duncan Knudsen, Lafayette; and Activities, Norris Pope, Martinez.

Special authorization was given Commodore Phil Slater, permitting two Sea Scout Ships to travel international water ways enroute to a Monterey Sea Scout Conclave.

National Home Week is an annual event, initiated in 1948, during which the members of the National Association of Home Builders exhibit their latest model homes. "Here may be remarked," one building authority said, "the finest evidence of progress in the long history of human shelter."

EXECUTIVES AND REPRESENTATIVES of member agencies of the United Crusade are assisting community chairmen in setting up residential drives in the various Diablo Valley communities. Shown seated above, left to right, are Miss Mabel Bunneke of Lafayette, executive director Diablo Valley Council of Girl Scouts; Mrs. Arnold Schultz of Alamo, former acting director Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County; and Mrs. Robert Dver of Walnut Creek, chairman of Red Cross Mt. Diablo Chapter Fund Raising Committee. Standing, left to right, C. L. (Verne) Odegard, Lafayette chairman; Kenneth Pryor, Orinda chairman, and John Tague, Walnut Creek chairman.

Diablo Forum Lists Series

An outstanding program series has been arranged for members and friends of the Diablo Tuesday Morning Forum.

Board members met at the home of Mrs. Hubert Prost in Ygnacio Valley last Tuesday morning to prepare for mailing announcements of the fall series which will be presented on October 13, November 3, and December 1 at Diablo Country Club.

Howard Pierce Davis, world affairs analyst and publisher of the World Observer will be the first speaker.

WELCOMED to the board were two new members, Mrs. Harmon Howard and Mrs. Irving Kraemer, both of Walnut Creek.

Mrs. John Blemer of Danville will this year act as co-ordinating chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. E. J. Molloy, program chairman, Mrs. Wm. E. Boyd, hostess chairman and other members of the board who represent the various communities of Contra Costa County.

Tuesday Morning Forum Will Hear Howard Davis

An interesting program is planned by the Diablo Tuesday Morning Forum for the opening of the fall series Tuesday at the Diablo Country Club.

Howard Pierce Davis, world affairs analyst, philosopher and commentator, will speak on the topic, "Signs of the Times." He will stress the necessity of approaching world problems with rational perspective, rather than hysterical invective.

A FORMER EDITOR and publisher, Davis is a graduate of Wesleyan University, a veteran of World War I, and professor of history and economics in the schools of New England, where his ancestors have lived for three centuries.

During the last 20 years, Davis has visited many foreign countries for a comprehensive study of international affairs and national issues. He has learned from officials in high positions, as well as from the man on the street, their hopes and fears for world peace and freedom.

Mrs. John Blemer, the forum's coordinator, has announced the remaining programs in the fall series as an address by Dr. Peter Commenduras, secretary-general of Mexico, who will lecture November 3 on "Medicine, Weapon of Freedom;" and Richard Gump, merchant and connoisseur in the world of arts, who will appear December 1 with a topic entitled, "Good Taste Costs no More."

MRS. EDWARD LARMER will arrange the decorations for the opening program and Mrs. William Boyd will preside at the coffee hour at 10 a.m. The social coffee period is included in the ticket.

Mrs. Blemer will be assisted in receiving the guests by members of the board, Mrs. William Hale, Jr., Mrs. Robert Bartlett, Mrs. Thomas Brighton and Mrs. Arch Campbell. The speaker will be introduced by Mrs. A. F. Bray, Jr.

Tickets for the fall series or single admissions may be obtained at the door the morning of the program.

Merry-Go-Round Rides Offered At Broadway

The kids can go round and round on the Broadway Merry-Go-Round and have a real ball, while mother does a little shopping for the family, announced George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

And, during Broadway's special celebration of its birthday, Webster commented, all merry-go-round rides will be free.

The merry-go-round is located just south of Broadway Pharmacy in the center.

School Meet to Precede Acalanes High Evaluation

How and why accreditation for high schools wil be the subject of the first meeting of its kind in California to be held October 21 at Concord Inn.

Members of school boards and superintendents of the county's six high school districts and three unified districts will meet with representatives of the California Association of Secondary School Administration, originator of the accrediting system.

CASSA representatives are Executive Secretary William McGowan, Berkeley; James H. Corson, city superintendent, Modesto; J. Wesley Berry, Modesto, chairman of the state accreditation committee; and Leslie W. Hedge, Bakersfield, chairman of the CASSA evacuation committee.

DINNER AT 6 p.m. will precede the program from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Roy Andreen and Mrs. Mary Louise Nissen, coordinators of secondary education, are conducting the meeting on behalf of the county superintendent's office.

Four Contra Costa schools scheduled to be evaluated for accreditation by CASSA committees this year will bring the county's total to 12.

The four are Acalanes, John Swett and Pittsburg High Schools and Antioch Junior High, the first junior high school in the county to undergo evaluation.

UNLIKE ACCREDITATION of the college preparatory course alone by the state university, the CASSA system evaluates the entire high school program.

Schools are accredited for varying lengths of time according to their rating, up to a maximum of five years.

County Superintendent of Schools Floyd Marchus has called the annual meeting of school board members for Thursday, November 19, at Concord.

Approximately 150 board members serve Contra Costa County's 32 school districts. Also to be invited will be the seven members of the County Board of Education and district superintendents.

DR. MARCHUS said a dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. at Sid's, 3498 Clayton Road, will be followed by a panel discussion of "The Pursuit of Excellence in Education." Participants will represent parents, teachers and administration.

Teachers will be introduced to the new state guide to teaching the political and economic facts of life when they attend a workshop at Pittsburg High School November 9.

George Roehr, consultant in secondary education, State Department of Education, will speak on the new social studies guide at a session opening at 4 p.m. Dinner will be at 6 p.m. and study group discussions at 7 p.m., said Dr. Francis G. Burke, director of educational services for county schools.

The workshop is planned for social studies teachers throughout the county, except Richmond, which will have an area workshop with Consultant Roehr on December 8.

PLANS ARE also in progress for a workshop in the spring.

New Safeway Store Opens In Concord

Right on schedule Safeway's new Concord store opened when Supervisor John Coll, assisted by Mayor Don Campbell and Chamber of Commerce President Warren Boggess, cut the traditional ribbon at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Participating in the ribbon-cutting ceremonies were many officials of Safeway Stores, also.

"SERVICE" AND "Convenience for Customers" are to be the bywords of the new food store, Manager Vern Van Gerpen stated.

The spacious parking lot for 90 cars is lighted by numerous high-density electroiliers and provides driveways on three sides for easy entrance and exit.

Magic carpet doors open automatically as the customers enter or leave the store.

A SPECIAL CUSTOMER service booth, where checks may be cashed and empty bottles returned, has been installed near the entrance. Here, too, are public telephones.

Special carts equipped with baby seats have been provided so that mothers may be relieved of the anxiety of the whereabouts of their youngsters while shopping.

Numerous wide aisles have been provided for easy access to the almost 7000 items offered for sale.

VAN GERPEN AND Assistant Manager Merle Gingles, produce department manager, Bob Tibbetts, and Meat Department Manager Nick Backovich will supervise the staff of 36 employees.

The development of this store was part of a previously announced $20½ million expansion program being undertaken by Safeway's San Francisco Division which now operates 153 stores in the Northern California coastal area.

Cheese Featured At Safeway's

Cheese, cheese and more cheese — cheese of almost every kind and description is being featured in the huge refrigerated cases of Safeway's new Concord store.

Here, one will find not only the usual "mild" and "sharp" cheddars and processed cheeses but also, Muenster, Gruyere, Gouda, Provolone, Kuminost, Mozzarello, Leiderkranz to name a few.

Yes, and Limburger, too.

In all, over 100 separate cheese items are stocked, Vern Van Gerpen, manager of the supermarket, reported.

"Cheese is an excellent protein food which has a host of uses," Van Gerpen said. "It can be used as a garnish for salads, for snacks or hors d'oeuvres, or for a non-fattening dessert, as well as for the well-known sandwich. Cheese adds a tasty zing to hot dishes that just can't be achieved any other way."

Broadway Most Successful Center

Broadway Shopping Center is one of the most successful centers in all California, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Webster pointed out that Broadway is by far the most successful in the northern part of the state as well as having the most stores of any center in the northern portion.

"There are many reasons for the success of Broadway," Webster commented. "The basic reason, however, is obvious: Merchants in the center know what the people need and these merchants get and have on hand these needs," Webster added.

"The people who visit Broadway have made the center a success and we mean to keep it that way by filling the needs of everyone," Webster declared.

"Broadway is open six days a week and two evenings. There are over 50 stores to serve you well," Webster concluded.

Larger kitchens will be found in the model homes this National Home Week because housewives have expressed a desire for this bigness. Automaton n the ktchen is a laboratory reality today; a home owner's practicality for tomorrow.

SHINGLES RESIST WINDS

New anti-wind shingles, designed to stay in place throughout the huskiest gusts, will be seen on many of the homes on display during national home week, particularly in areas subjected to frequent windstorms. The lock-type shingles, fashioned with an interlocking jig-saw design, not only give increased protection against wind and driving rain but are fashion conscious as well. Roof specialists at Allied Chemical's Barrett Division report they are available in white and pastel shades.
